THE SAFEST AXLE CONSTRUCTION

Under such famous trains as the Hiawatha, Green Diamond, "400", Super Chief, The Yankee Clipper, North Coast Limited, Empire Builder, The Challenger and others, A. S. F. Roller Bearing Units have given millions of miles of satisfactory service.

This service has been at high speeds and under heavy loads . . . where the bearing installation must be free from disastrous failure. Nine years of outstanding performance, backed by years of experience in furnishing wheels and trucks to meet railway requirements, is the reason why A. S. F. Roller Bearing Units are in use under so many famous trains.

AMERICAN STEEL FOUNDRIES

Hard to believe? Even you world-traveled National Geographic readers are due for a surprise when you discover that Alaska's smooth ocean lanes are actually sea-filled mountain canyons carved out during some prehistoric age!

Surprising, too, is the small expense and short time necessary for a vacation in Alaska, the land of the extraordinary! Rail and all-inclusive steamer fares are amazingly low, and the wide range of cruises and cruise-tours will fit any vacation time-budget. Board a modern, completely air-conditioned train to follow scenic routes to Seattle in the Evergreen Playground. There your All-American steamer turns her bow north to thread Alaska's mountain-sheltered seas, to carry you to gateways to the Interior, where thrills await in Matanuska Valley, Mount McKinley National Park, and the Yukon.

Compare Alaska as a vacationland! Here is the most extravagant and incredible of lands, where, beneath the Midnight Sun, flowers bloom beside roaring glaciers, where streets of modern towns whisper of the past when Russians ruled and sourdoughs stampeded for gold, where fantastic totem poles stand as mute reminders of mystic Indian legends.

Presenting

THREE NEW AMBASSADORS EXTRAORDINARY

TO SOUTH AMERICA!

Inaugural sailing, the BRAZIL from New York to Brazil, Uruguay, Argentina, October 8th. Fortnightly sailings thereafter.

Here in fresh new splendor are the BRAZIL, URUGUAY and ARGENTINA — three luxuriously modern express liners — that are soon to blaze a new trade and vacation trail to our neighbor republics beyond the equator.

Just to name the ports of call is to unfold a fascinating new world of travel. Rio de Janeiro, with the most beautiful harbor in the world — Santos — Montevideo — Buenos Aires — all beckon you southward to lands which few North Americans have ever seen.

Stop at any you wish, but Buenos Aires, farthest south of all, is only 18 days away. Or a round trip offers you six glorious weeks of relaxation and comfort at sea, a stop at historic Trinidad on the return voyage.

The ships are America's largest turbo-electric liners, completely reconditioned, refurnished and equipped with every modern safety feature. They have acres of sun and sport decks, a veranda cafe, open-air swimming pools, spacious public rooms, a library that literally invites you to catch up on your reading afloat.

Every stateroom is an outside room — with full-size beds, hot and cold running water, electric fans.

Thus, at your disposal, are all the facilities for both rest and play — whichever you want, whenever you want it. And ever at your service is a courteous staff — at table, a cuisine that makes each meal a treat to anticipate.

Before you make your fall or winter plans, look into the many attractions The Good Neighbor Fleet has to offer — for little if any more than stay-at-home cost — six weeks, at rates as low as $550.

For full information apply to your own travel agent or write to American Republics Line, Moore & McCormack Lines, Inc., Managing Agents, New York.

FAREWELL BROADWAY —HELLO RIO!

(and Santos, Montevideo, Buenos Aires)

BELOW the equator, a fascinating new world awaits you...the east coast of South America. It's spring-time down there now—summer is but a few weeks off. And linking that wonderland and ours are three newly appointed modern express liners — the S. S. BRAZIL, S. S. URUGUAY and S. S. ARGENTINA.

Your vacation begins when you step aboard in New York. Spacious promenade, sun and sport decks, open-air swimming pools, a veranda cafe, luxurious salons and libraries — invite you to rest or play as you wish, during the thirty-eight glorious days a complete round trip affords you.

Twelve days out you enter the world's most magnificent port, the harbor of Rio de Janeiro — then Santos, the greatest coffee port in the world — next Montevideo, capital of cosmopolite Uruguay — and on the eighteenth day you're in Buenos Aires, the gay metropolis of the Argentine.

On a complete cruise you visit them all, including historic Trinidad on the return voyage. Delightful shore trips may be arranged at each port, where you will find excellent hotels at reasonable rates. And you may even cross the continent and visit the beautiful Andean country.

All rooms on these liners face outside — have hot and cold running water, full-size beds and modern ventilation. A courteous, capable staff is at your service. Every meal is an event you will genuinely enjoy.

Consider how much The Good Neighbor Fleet offers you for little if any more than living costs at home. Sailings are fortnightly and rates begin at only $480* for the complete thirty-eight-day cruise. Ask your local travel agent for detailed information, or write

A·S·F·ROLLER BEARING UNITS

366,000 pounds on the tender bearings

The tender of this new Norfolk & Western locomotive weighs 366,000 pounds when loaded to capacity. The A. S. F. Roller Bearing Units under it each carry a load of 61,000 pounds at the rail . . . quite a load for tender bearings.

The roller bearings of A. S. F. Units are located in the hub of the wheel—oversized bearings and low stressed axles can be used without increasing the journal size over that required by the I. C. C.

A. S. F. Roller Bearing Units require no special attention and no maintenance between general shoppings.

These little SPUDS went to market

IT seems very simple for a woman to drop in at her grocer's and say:

"I'll have a peck of potatoes—25 pounds of flour—a pound of coffee—half a dozen oranges—a package of corn flakes—and how's your lettuce today?"

But did you ever wonder how all these things find their way to the corner grocer?

Instead of one woman, think of twenty-five million who do the buying for their families.

Instead of a peck of potatoes, think of three and a half million tons delivered to all the corner grocers in a year.

Think of 8,600,000 tons of wheat flour—1,790,000 tons of oranges and grapefruit—868,000 tons of cereal and you begin to see the amount of food moved by the railroads every year.

Coming back to the potatoes—the average distance this humble food travels by rail, between the fields where it is raised and the counter where it is sold, is 741½ miles.

And the only thing which can make potato-raising profitable for many people is the fact that their potatoes can get to a market several hundred miles away.

If that transportation were not easy—potatoes would pile up unused in the country—while city people paid fancy prices for the few that could be hauled in.

This in a simple way demonstrates the indispensable part the railroads play in helping the man who raises food to find a market—and the consumer to enjoy the pick of the nation's food at a reasonable price.

The rate at which this service is rendered is low—no other form of transportation could handle the tonnage at close to the price if in fact it could handle it at all.

ASSOCIATION OF
AMERICAN RAILROADS
WASHINGTON, D. C.

Not a High Hat in a Hundred

THE people whose children go to school with yours — the folks who sit next to you at the movies or at church — thrifty, hard-working folks — you, yourself in all probability — own the railroads.

For the railroads belong to 855,000 separate owners of railroad stocks — the majority of individual owners have somewhere between 10 and 100 shares — and to the hundreds of thousands who own railroad bonds.

But this is only a starting point. Half the total population has life insurance and all of these people have an indirect ownership in the railroads — because insurance companies own railroad securities.

Or to take another group — anyone who has a little money in a savings account has an indirect ownership in the railroads, because savings banks also own railroad securities.

Look them all over and it's easy to see there's not a high hat in a hundred. The real owners of the railroads are just folks.

That's why it's important to the average American for the railroads to prosper. Only when they take in more than they pay out for materials, supplies, taxes, labor, can they have something left over to pay for the use of the money which these people have invested.

With this fact always in mind, the railroads, in the face of lean earnings, have developed mass transportation with all of its efficiency and economy — more powerful locomotives, longer trains, greater dependability.

They have also worked steadily for improved service as a means of winning business — both passenger and freight. The speed of freight trains, for instance, has been stepped up 50 per cent. And everyone knows the progress made in air-conditioning — the popularity and economy of streamline trains — and the railroad safety record.

Anyone who looks at the total record must be impressed with the enterprising spirit of the railroads — and with the need for rates which will not only give their myriad owners some hope of income from the money invested, but will attract new capital which will enable the railroads to continue to supply America with the finest transportation in the world.

ASSOCIATION OF
AMERICAN RAILROADS
WASHINGTON, D. C.

Do you want to go back?

WHEN the little engines with the big smokestacks pulled railroad trains seventy years ago, here was the situation:

Wages were low. Service and safety were far below modern standards. And freight rates were three times as high as they are today!

Long freight trains remedied that. Long trains are the very heart of modern service.

Long trains—pulled by modern engines—on modern tracks built with heavy rails—have brought today's fast freight service, higher wages for workers, greater safety for everybody.

And now there is a threat to deprive the public by law of much of the benefit of these improvements.

The TRAIN LIMIT BILL—passed by the United States Senate and waiting action by the House of Representatives—is aimed to make the railroads split up freight trains on the pretext that it is a safety measure.

But here's how the theory squares with the fact: safety records show that accidents to employes have been reduced by nearly three-fourths in the very years that freight trains have been lengthened and speeded up to give better service.

What this bill really does is to force the railroads backward—backward in safety—backward in service—backward in efficiency—backward in economy.

What it does is to clamp down and smother the whole spirit of enterprise, invention and progress which are America's hope of better transportation in the years ahead.

Think it over. Do you want rail progress stopped? Do you want rail service to go back instead of ahead?

If not, better speak up now.

ASSOCIATION OF
AMERICAN RAILROADS
WASHINGTON, D. C.

IT'S YOUR FUTURE AS WELL AS OURS

A JOB for every man who wants to work —a time when every farm and factory and mine will be busy producing things which people need—

That's not impossible in the nation that has made the most spectacular growth in history. Every reason argues the nation will continue to go ahead.

Sure of this, the American railroads have, even in lean and trying times, steadily built toward the day when increased commerce will need and profit by finer transportation than it has ever had before.

So the railroads have doggedly pressed for better service, laying heavier rails, straightening curves, cutting down grades, increasing the average speed of freight trains almost fifty per cent—producing transportation more cheaply and more efficiently year by year.

The record of the past decade clearly demonstrates the determination of the railroads to keep their service abreast of America's needs —and their ability as well.

But if America is to have the tools she needs to prosper, railroads must earn enough to continue this progress.

Since 1933, prices of the things railroads buy have gone up; wages have increased; taxes have risen—while the average level of railroad freight and passenger charges has steadily declined.

Advancing production costs in other industries have been accompanied by increased consumer prices.

The average charge by the railroads for hauling a ton of freight one mile was, on the contrary, actually 10 per cent less in 1937 than in 1932—26⅝ per cent less than in 1921, shortly after the end of government operation, when the downward trend of rates began.

As a result, they have been compelled to cut down forces and curtail purchases of the 70,000 different items which railroads buy. That means less work, less business, less prosperity in industries and communities in every corner of the land.

And that's what we mean when we say it's your future as well as ours—that's why you have a vital interest in seeing that the railroads earn enough to help bring about increased employment and a broader prosperity.

"And I Can Make It Talk"
You're right about that, Sonny. At eight or eighty it's easy for anyone to use the telephone. And year after year the service gets better and better.
This country leads the world in telephone service because it leads in telephone research. Thousands of scientists, engineers and assistants are at work in the Bell Telephone Laboratories to make the service faster, clearer and more economical. No part of the Bell System is more important to you as a telephone user.
BELL TELEPHONE SYSTEM

Your good telephone service is made possible by the constant research of Bell Telephone Laboratories

Sleep SOUNDLY, LITTLE LADY . . .

"Mother and Daddy are near and the telephone is always close by. It doesn't go to sleep. All through the night it stands guard over you and millions of other little girls and boys."

Each night about 11,000,000 telephone calls are made over the Bell System. Many are caused by sudden, urgent needs. Great in its every-day values, the telephone becomes priceless in emergencies. The constant aim of the Bell System is to give you, at all times, the best and the most telephone service at the lowest possible cost.

"I'm Glad You Called"

This very hour, millions of words are being spoken by telephone. Friend talks to friend and two lives are happier because of it.

Greetings and best wishes are exchanged — holiday visits arranged — affairs of business transacted. A doctor comes quickly in answer to a hurried call.

And day and night, the country over, these oft-repeated words reflect the value of the telephone . . . "I'm glad you called."

BELL TELEPHONE SYSTEM

"THANKS FOR CALLING"
The telephone helps a lot of folks to know each other better. Business is easier—friends are nearer—life is richer—because of it.
"Thanks for calling," spoken over the telephone many times a day, is a friendly reminder of the usefulness, dependability and value of Bell System service.

and you'll bring back BETTER MOVIES!

If you are a seasoned movie-maker, you will realize that this remarkable new 16 mm. magazine-loading camera frees you from annoying "gadget setting" . . . enables you to concentrate on the picture—not on the camera! If you are a beginner—here is the camera that gives you professional-quality movies right from the start. For it automatically does many of the things that beginners often forget.

MAKES SLOW-MOTION FILMS...IN NATURAL COLOR!

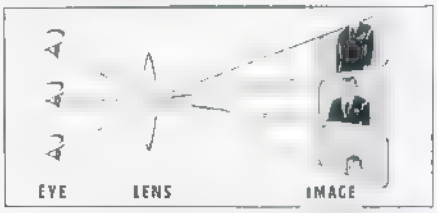
Filmo 141 takes movies in color, in black-and-white, and in slow motion. Takes animated cartoons, too. Fast lens permits use indoors. Filmo 141 is easy to carry—small, light, fits a coat pocket. Uses Eastman film magazines, available everywhere. Sturdy, precise —built by the makers of Hollywood's preferred professional movie equipment.

SEE IT AT YOUR DEALER'S NOW

Learn how simple and easy it is to make professional-quality movies with this new Filmo. Take it with you on your trip—and you'll bring back better motion pictures. See it at better camera shops and department stores now. Bell & Howell Company, Chicago, New York, Hollywood, London. Established 1907.

PRE-THREADED FILM MAGAZINE DROPS INTO PLACE

Merely open the door, slip the pre-threaded cartridge of 16 millimeter film into place, and you are ready to take movies. There is no threading of film. You can change from black-and-white to color film even in mid-reel without fogging a single frame.



NO "AMPUTATED" PICTURES

Just look through the fully enclosed viewfinder and press the button. What you see, you get. There is no chance of "amputating" heads, feet, or sides of your subjects, because this Filmo's exclusive, positive, "projected area" viewfinder is accurate even though you fail to look through the center of the finder.

Catch it... IN COLOR MOVIES WITH A Filmo

$51.50 As little as $11 down

FOR repeated enjoyment of your carefree vacation days and travel joys, record the happy, fun-filled hours with a Filmo movie camera.

To make flawless color movies you must have a good camera. The rugged Filmo is constructed with the same watch-like 10,000th-of-an-inch precision that has made Bell & Howell professional equipment preferred by Hollywood.

And it's so easy to make fine personal movies—even slow-motion scenes in full color—with a Filmo. The film literally drops into place. No focusing is required. Sight through the Filmo's brilliant spyglass viewfinder, and what you see, you get. Nothing is lost... color, action, and life, all are faithfully recorded for you to enjoy again at will.

The Filmo shown here uses the inexpensive 8 millimeter film. At still-picture cost it records both the action and the color. Palm-size, it is easily carried in a pocket. Yet it has a fine, color-corrected F 3.5 lens for movies indoors as well as out, requires no extra gadgets to take color movies, and offers the extra fun of slow-motion pictures and animated cartoons and titles. Only $51.50 at camera stores everywhere. 16 mm. Filmos from $65 to $1155.

FAMOUS PRODUCER DIRECTOR

HAS THIS TO TELL YOU ABOUT FILMO CAMERAS

"You too can make good movies—even color movies—if you have a good camera. The palm-size Filmo amazes me with its simple operation and flawless performance."

A scene from Mr. LeRoy's latest picture, "Fools for Scandal," with Fernand Gravet, Marcia Ralston, and Isabel Jeans. A Warner Bros. production.

MERVYN LEROY KNOWS the vitally important part that the precision of Bell & Howell equipment plays in making perfect professional movies. He knows, too, that for taking really fine personal movies, precision camera construction is just as important. That's why most professional producers, directors, artists, and cameramen use Filmos for their personal movie making.

Filmos give their professional results with amateur ease. Loading is easy—film almost drops into place. No focusing is necessary. Through the Filmo's spyglass viewfinder you see the subject clearly, and what you see, you get. All Filmos make both black-and-white and full-color movies, both indoors and outdoors.

Most convenient of the Filmos, perhaps, is the palm-size, pocket-fitting model which uses the new 8 millimeter film with which movies can be made as inexpensively as still pictures. Makes animated cartoons and titles, and slow-motion movies, too. The price is only $55 at camera dealers' everywhere. There are other 8 mm. and 16 mm. Filmo Cameras—also both silent and sound Filmo Projectors.

You, too, can be a movie producer

Yes, you can produce, direct, and film the greatest drama of all time—the life of your growing children—your own life of work, travel, and play. You can record in black-and-white movies or in full color the scenes of today which will be treasured in years to come. You can even make slow-motion movies just like you see so often in the newsreels.

Easy as taking snapshots and as inexpensive

All barriers to making movies have been removed for you by the same Bell & Howell engineers who have designed the finest professional equipment used in Hollywood. You just look through the spyglass viewfinder, press the button—what you see, you get! The cost? Less for a Filmo movie camera than the price of many still cameras—and less for your movie "shots" than the cost of a fair-sized still picture, because this Filmo uses the economical 8 mm. film.

It costs so little, it is so easy to make movies with a Filmo, you should drop in at your local dealer's today. Inspect the remarkable 8 mm. palm-sized Filmo.

Roadmaster is the name!

THESE are the statistics: Its bonnet houses 141 ready-willing-and-able horsepower.

Its swift wheels can spurt you from ten to sixty in 18 seconds flat.

From a ten-m.p.h. start at the bottom, it will swoop you over an eleven per cent hill with an easy forty-four at the top.

But the smoothness of its panther-like gait is something statistics can't picture; the heart-warming satisfaction in its eye-wink answer to your treadle foot is something you can only feel.

The point is that it's boss of any road, with its DYNAFLASH engine to set the thrilling pace and its TORQUE-FREE SPRINGING to make smoothies out of rough spots.

We wish you'd try it — just to see if you can name its rival within a thousand dollars of its price.

The Buick shown is the ROADMASTER touring sedan, delivering at Flint, Mich., at $1645, complete with standard equipment. Fenderwells, white sidewall tires and special accessories extra. There are 4 ROADMASTER models ranging in price from $1645 to $1983, and 3 LIMITED models from $2176 to $2453 delivered complete at Flint. State and local taxes if any and transportation extra

"Better buy Buick!"

A GENERAL MOTORS VALUE

Distinguished in Service

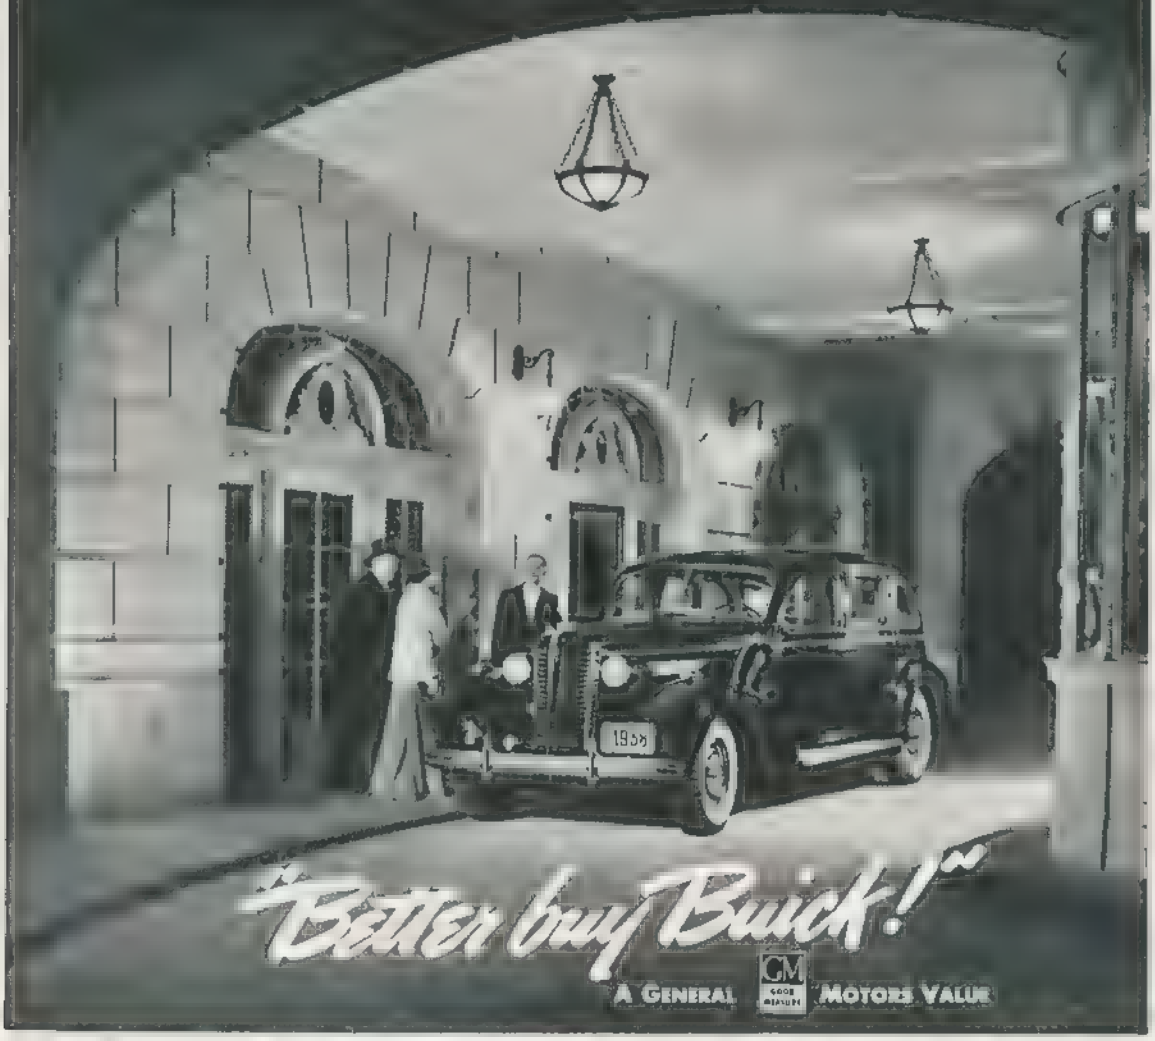
IMPRESSIVE size is not unusual in a car of the Buick LIMITED'S price class, and luxuriously fine interior appointments are of course to be expected.

What the LIMITED brings new to this field is a peerless brilliance of performance—a lightness of handling that entices you to take over the wheel, nimbleness that's demonstrated at every getaway from a traffic light. It can, for example, step from ten miles per hour to sixty in a fraction over eighteen seconds. It levels out hills with quiet ease and is refreshingly frugal for a car of its inches.

Buick's roominess is something appraised at a glance. Its richness of finish is equally self-evident. But for the real measure of its distinction, we suggest you take this car out on the road. After such a test we'd like to ask you can you name a car that equals the LIMITED within a thousand dollars of its price?

More than meets the eye

LOOK at it. You are impressed with its size and majesty and grace of line. Sit in it—your appreciative eye finds it faultless in all its appointments. But to measure the merits of the Buick LIMITED you must drive it. For the most surprising thing about this arresting car is its brilliance of behavior. Faster on the take-off, lighter in all its handling, smooth with a fluid ease exclusive to Buick alone, it is nimble as no car of its size has been before. Add that to its stunning style and to its luxurious roominess and you have the reason why you'll fail to match its value elsewhere within a thousand dollars of its price.



"Better buy Buick!"

A GENERAL MOTORS VALUE

The Buick shown is the LIMITED Limousine delivering at Flint, Mich. at $2453, complete with standard equipment. Fenderwells extra. There are 3 LIMITED models ranging in price from $2176 to $2453 and 4 ROADMASTER models from $1645 to $1963 delivered complete at Flint. State and local taxes if any and transportation extra.

Where There's Roadmaster There's Life

THERE was a day, and not so long ago, when you had to choose between the comfort of size and the thrill of brilliant behavior if your tastes ran to a car in the general price range of the Buick ROADMASTER.

But here's a car only three inches short of eighteen feet, with interior room to spare and the solid, road-steadiness of ample weight—yet it can step you up from ten to sixty in eighteen seconds flat, produce all the m.p.h. you'll ever need, and, in Proving Ground tests, deliver 16.5 miles per gallon at thirty!

Such statistics are impressive. But even they fail to picture the life and spirit of this truly great traveler. It is that spirit that puts ROADMASTER so much in evidence today wherever life and action have the call; when you've tried it we think you, too, will wonder if ROADMASTER has any equal within a thousand dollars of its price!

SHOULDN'T WE KNOW THESE THINGS?

For comforting beauty, and as the couch of a departed dear one, long custom decrees a casket. But to protect both casket and precious contents from the water under ground—that is the important function of a grave vault.

A Clark grave vault will contribute to the peace of mind that comes from having taken such precaution. Its heavy hood (welded into one piece of metal) locks to a base built 50% higher for added water protection. New double sub-base, which increases supporting area, causes vault to rest more evenly and firmly. Clark vaults dipped in molten zinc for greater rust resistance are available at slight additional cost. No other vault offers all these exclusive features. And—every Clark vault is backed by a signed Warranty. This is very important.

Things you should know are found in our free booklet, MY DUTY. It offers helpful aid in time of need. Mailed in plain wrapper—write for it now.

...BEFORE the need

At every burial the casket should be protected by a grave vault. Caskets are designed for comforting beauty. Clark vault material is two to three times as thick as most metal casket stock. You should know, too, that there is a vast difference in metallic vaults. Clark vaults offer important, exclusive advantages.

A 50% higher base affords protection against additional outside water pressure. Clark double sub-base increases effectiveness of diving-bell principle. Special Zinc Dipped Clark Vaults, at small extra cost, give added rust-resistance.

All Clark vaults are double welded, inspected, and then finally tested by being submerged in water to a depth of six feet.

A signed Warranty goes with every Clark vault. Look for the identifying trade-mark —on every genuine Clark vault. Ask us for "My Duty," a helpful, free booklet. The best time to write us for it is now.

CUNARD WHITE STAR

"Mention the Geographic—It identifies you."

Handsomely...

Handsomely is the British seaman's word for a job done "steadily and carefully"—a job done well. And it summarizes a host of qualities as manifold as the British tradition itself. It means quickness and precision in the helmsman's response to his officer's command . . . flawless symmetry in the coiling of a cable, shipshape thoroughness in the holystoning of a deck. And even more personally does the word apply to the myriad details of a passenger's comfort. Handsomely does the ship's gardener fashion a corsage for milady's important evening. Handsomely is your table dressed to receive the masterpieces of Cunard White Star's continental chefs. Even the little unobtrusive attentions . . . clothes laid out, breakfast wishes miraculously divined, your message smartly delivered by young "buttons" . . . even these reveal the racial instinct and the near-century of training that take you so handsomely to Europe in a Cunard White Star ship.

THE BRITISH TRADITION DISTINGUISHES

CUNARD WHITE STAR

TO CARCASSONNE

BY MOTOR CAR

"Ah, might I but see Carcassonne"— Gustave Nadaud

THE day before you sail, you drive your car to the French Line pier at the foot of 48th Street in New York. There it is put into the ship's garage, uncrated. When you dock at Havre, it is waiting for you. Or you can readily rent a car abroad.

And then what high adventure crowds upon you! Motoring over the magnificent, uncrowded, well-marked highways that connect all parts of western Europe. Visiting alluring out-of-the-way spots . . . seeing breath-taking views of snow-capped mountains and flower-filled valleys . . . touring the colorful wine districts . . . driving through the gates to Carcassonne!

Round-trip minimum rate for cars on the French Line is only $165. With this year's favorable rate of exchange, an all-expense, 2100-mile three-week tour of France for three persons (including shipping and return of car) can easily be made for $185 for each individual.

To make your trip complete you will want to cross both ways by French Line. Your Travel Agent will gladly help you plan all details; and he will save you much time and money. 610 Fifth Ave. (Rockefeller Center), New York.

LAUGH AT OLD MAN WINTER!

A GREYHOUND TRIP WILL BREAK HIS SPELL—
THAW HIS CHILL—and Save your Dollars

Travel South to Sunshine — or North to Winter Fun!

Winter is a grand old fellow—when you get to know him! Give Greyhound the pleasure of introducing you where winter smiles in health-giving sunshine on gay Florida beaches, along the warm Gulf Coast, through the romantic Southwest, or in colorful California. Famous modern Super-Coaches are miracles of smooth riding—healthfully heated and ventilated. You can go one route, returning another at no extra fare—and at big savings over other transportation.

Can't spare time for a southern vacation? No matter! Winter in the snow zone becomes a friendly season when Greyhound trips are scheduled. Business trips or week-end visits to family or friends are made at a very minimum of time and expense. Trips to exhilarating winter sports, with congenial fellow passengers, will be warm, safe, scenic. So, don't hibernate this winter! Break the spell of the cold season with pleasant, low-cost trips by Greyhound.

"I SUPPOSE we'd go pretty high-hat if a rich uncle left us a million dollars . . . costly cars, snappy clothes, fun and travel! But there are a few things that no amount of wealth would change, and one is our mode of travel.

"Pocket money will buy a Greyhound ticket to nearly anywhere on this continent—but a bank-full of greenbacks couldn't duplicate what that ticket offers us.

"No sleek, special-built limousine can exceed the riding ease of a Greyhound Super-Coach with its brilliantly designed body, extra long wheelbase—its four-position reclining chairs, efficient ventilation and heating. No group of private chauffeurs can equal the National safety record set by Greyhound drivers.

"Mere money can't buy good fellowship, unusual human interest, and a fascinating close-up look at America, along its great highways. These come with each Greyhound trip, all included in the original low fare—a fraction the cost of driving a small private auto."

Each island gloriously beautiful—each fascinatingly different. The main islands are Hawaii, Maui, Kauai and Oahu.

Hawaii challenges your imagination!

Words can communicate Hawaii's friendliness, dramatize her welcome, and color the background of her glittering pageantry—

But they fail completely to impart the startling colors which vivify all of Hawaii's unlike isles . . . they only serve to catalog her varied scenes and pleasures . . . which the eye must see for the mind to understand.

Count on beauty that will put to rout your best-trained adjectives. Count on that inexpressible romance borne on moonbeams through palm-fronds . . . with just enough of Forty-Second St., and the Rue de la Paix and Hollywood Blvd., their fashions and their foibles, to make the picture real. Or unreal . . . if such contrasts are too much for your imagination!

Words can tell you this. Until you've seen Hawaii as she is and lived as she lives, you're not apt to believe it. But isn't it worth trying?

Isn't it worth a call upon your Travel Agent, who now has our new free booklet, "Nani O Hawaii"? Or write to Hawaii Tourist Bureau, 203 Market St., San Francisco, Calif.; 242 Petroleum Securities Bldg., Los Angeles, Calif.

Hawaii

blends color, music and laughter . . .

★ Hawaii has four major islands . . Maui, Kauai, Oahu and Hawaii . . a 4-star masterpiece!

There is a lilt to life in Hawaii which no one has ever been able to express. You can do a fair job of trying, because the most colorful phrases spring naturally to mind at mention of these vital isles. Yet something, inevitably, is lacking in the result . . . the character and spirit of this sunny archipelago are too elusive to be trapped in words.

But little is lacking in Hawaii, herself. What do you seek? Scenic beauty flashing with sub-tropical color? A sports calendar almost confusing in lavish variety? Climate approaching perfection? A land where you can be romantic or practical, dreamy or vigorous . . . where you can go delightfully primitive or dashingly modern according to your mood? And where you can count on a welcome born in the heart, with a "follow-through" that will always hold you willingly captive?

Hawaii awaits with every provision for your pleasure. Hotels world-famed for year-round gaiety . . . smart shops with the latest in seashore modes that make it unnecessary and unwise to assemble your wardrobe until you arrive . . . highways, seaways and airways for exploring the isles of Kauai, Oahu, Maui and Hawaii.

Sail on a palatial liner from Los Angeles, San Francisco or Vancouver, B. C. . . . or fly in less than a day on a giant Clipper. Ask any travel agent for our booklet "Nani O Hawaii" or write directly to Hawaii Tourist Bureau, 203 Market St., San Francisco, Calif., or 242 Petroleum Securities Bldg., Los Angeles, Calif.

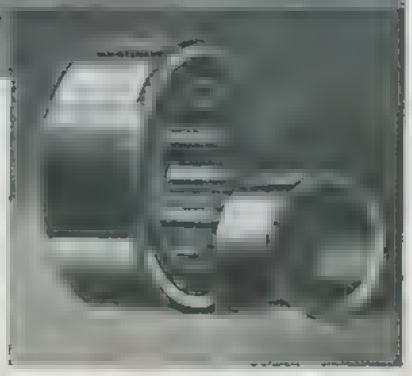
THE NEW "CATERPILLAR" DIESEL AUTO PATROL HAS HYATT EQUIPMENT



WITH the introduction of the new No. 12 "Caterpillar" Diesel Auto Patrol, its greater capacity for heavier work at higher speeds was emphasized. And to help make this possible Hyatt Roller Bearings are employed.

In the Auto Patrol transmission there are nine Hyatt Hy-Load Roller Bearings. Their job is to help furnish ruggedness and stability, which with "Caterpillar" is of prime importance.

This kind of modern, sturdy design typifies the contractors' equipment which is built with Hyatts . . . and proves that it pays to look for Hyatts before you buy.

DOC MELLHORN AND THE PEARLY GATES—BENET

THERE'S ADDED JOY IN ADDED CYLINDERS

People who have never driven a twelve-cylinder car may think of it, primarily, as capable of high speed. The Lincoln-Zephyr is that, most certainly, but the joy of driving it comes in many other ways. Always it has power in reserve. In traffic, or on the open road, it goes gently.

New owners discover that familiar trips are made more quickly—but, that they drive less fast than before. Having picked up an even pace, they maintain it—without pressure, without fatigue. Lincoln-Zephyr performance is both efficient and economical. Owners report 14 to 18 miles to the gallon under a wide variety of driving conditions.

Some people jump to the conclusion that the Lincoln-Zephyr must be an expensive car to buy. It is medium in price. Wholly new in beauty, in balance, in riding ease, and safety, this modern "twelve" is the only car of its kind at any price. Choose from six body types, including two new convertibles. Lincoln Motor Company, builders of Lincoln and Lincoln-Zephyr V-12 motor cars.

Prices begin at $1295, delivered at Detroit factory. State and federal taxes extra. The Sedan illustrated is $[illegible], delivered at Detroit factory; this price includes white side-wall tires.

LINCOLN-ZEPHYR V·12

This year, greet Summer in a Lincoln-Zephyr

Now, under skies of water-color blue, outbound roads call the traveler. Change of season brings the desire for change of scene . . . for mountain, painted desert, and skyline, long dreamed of but unvisited.

This year, owners of a new car, the Lincoln-Zephyr, will reach places which before were only names on a map. They will cover longer distances than they would have attemped last year. Traveling by 12 cylinders, they will go in new comfort, new ease, new confidence!

A "twelve," to many people, still denotes a car for the wealthy alone. In times past, that has been true. Today it is no longer true. This "twelve" is medium in price. It is still true, however, that a "twelve" is a smoother, gentler, and a more luxurious ride—and more fun!

This "twelve" is not only ahead in number of cylinders. It is advanced in all ways. It is a new idea for a 12-cylinder engine to give 14 to 18 miles to the gallon. Yet this engine does, cheerfully. It is a new idea to provide so much size, safety and luxury at medium price. Yet this car provides them.

Modern in appearance and performance, the Lincoln-Zephyr is today's new transportation. It will give more pleasure than you thought a car could ever give. It will open roads you thought you might never see. It offers the kind of travel you thought might not come for years! Lincoln Motor Company, builders of Lincoln and Lincoln-Zephyr V-12s.

Lincoln-Zephyr V-12

YOUR NEW RIDE IS WAITING

LINCOLN-ZEPHYR V-12

FOR 1938

STARTLINGLY handsome, longer, larger, roomier, the LINCOLN-ZEPHYR of 1938 is waiting to be your new ride. A trip downtown will convince you that here is a new rhythm of motoring. A trip across the continent would demonstrate that it is also a tireless rhythm!

This balanced car refuses to take count of miles or hours. In closed models, body and frame are welded into a single, rigid framework—a steel unit to which are welded steel top, sides and floor; a strong structure and a safe one. Within this house of steel, passenger weight is carried "amidships." A rough road seems an optical illusion.

Long roads, also, seem not to exist. The V-type 12-cylinder engine, through all gears and under all conditions, sweeps distance aside. It places at the driver's command flexible power that makes driving easier and quicker without the necessity of high top speed.

Designed by Lincoln, built to Lincoln standards of precision, the LINCOLN-ZEPHYR engine has proved its economy to more than 45,000 present users. It gives 14 to 18 miles to the gallon under all travel conditions. The 1938 engine is even smoother and more silent.

Your new ride is waiting! Choose from six body types, including the new Convertible Sedan and Convertible Coupe. Lincoln Motor Company, builders of Lincoln and Lincoln-Zephyr V-12 motor cars.

NEARER THE SUN!

MIAMI

A TRUE TROPICAL CLIMATE BECAUSE IT'S NEARER THE SUN!

NATIONAL acceptance of Miami as a winter residence for Americans of moderate means springs from many factors. Plenty of fine, medium-range accommodations, absence of fuel and winter clothing expense, low all-season rates, excellent schools, all contribute to making the idea of moving entire families here for the winter a practical reality. Thousands who carry it out every year prove it.

GEOGRAPHIC factors tell Miami's story in a nutshell — over 1,000 miles south of Europe's Riviera; 400 miles farther south than any U. S. west coast city—yet many hours nearer to 85% of the population of U. S. and Canada. This one small area of true "winter-proof" tropics is unique. Coconut palms grow wild. Temperatures hug the 70's all winter—a winter average over 10° higher than any other major U. S. City. ★Don't dismiss this idea with "can't be done." Miami's new Official City Booklet outlining rates, programs, accommodations, etc., will quickly enable you to make definite plans. Send for it today.

Presenting

THREE NEW AMBASSADORS EXTRAORDINARY

TO SOUTH AMERICA!

Inaugural sailing, the BRAZIL from New York to Brazil, Uruguay, Argentina, October 8th. Fortnightly sailings thereafter

Here in fresh new splendor are the BRAZIL, URUGUAY and ARGENTINA—three fabulously modern express liners — that are soon to blaze a new trade and vacation trail to our neighbor republics beyond the equator

Just to name the ports of call is to unfold a fascinating new world of travel. Rio de Janeiro, with the most beautiful harbor in the world — Santos — Montevideo — Buenos Aires — all beckon you southward to lands which few North Americans have ever seen

Stop at any you wish, but Buenos Aires farthest south of all, is only 18 days away Or a round trip offers you six glorious weeks of relaxation and comfort at sea. a stop at historic Trinidad on the return voyage.

The ships are America's largest turbo-electric liners, completely reconditioned, refurnished and equipped with every modern safety feature They have acres of sun and sport decks, a veranda cafe open-air swimming pools, spacious public rooms, a library that literally invites you to catch up on your reading about

Every stateroom is an outside room — with full size beds, hot and cold running water, electric fans.

Thus, at your disposal, are all the facilities for both rest and play — whichever you want, whenever you want it. And ever at your service is a courteous staff — at table, a cuisine that makes each meal a treat to anticipate

Before you make your fall or winter plans, look into the many attractions The Good Neighbor Fleet has to offer for little if any more than stay-at home cost — six weeks, at rates as low as $550

Will Ye Accept a Wee Giftie fra' Botany?

Let Us Gie Ye this Bonnie Book on True Scottish Clans

IT'S FREE, MON!

Because the famous Botany Wrinkle-Proof Ties include a rare, fine lot of true Scottish Tartans, we've prepared a book that tells the story of the Clans in an interesting manner. From it, ye'll learn how they started, what they denote, and what Tartan your own family should wear. Like all Botany Wrinkle-Proof Ties, the Tartans appeal to any man with a drop of Scottish blood in his veins...or a grain of Scottish sense in his nature. For they're fair everlastin'...never wrinkle...and the price is a bargain ...one dollar only.

Don't hesitate...'twill cost you not a pence...but send the coupon, filled in, and you'll get your book.

MAKE THIS TEST: Ask your Dealer to let you examine a handful of Botany Ties. Note how they spring back to fresh smoothness. If you fail to locate a dealer, write us, and we will direct you.

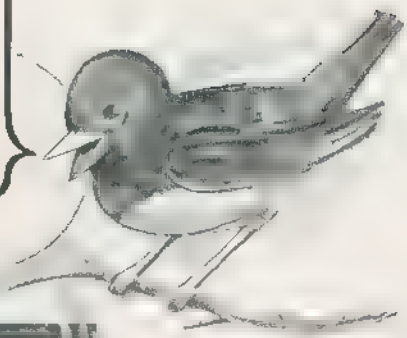
SUMMER COMES EARLIER TO NEW JERSEY!



SUMMER COMES TO THE SEASHORE!

The famous New Jersey coast line offers more miles of marvelous beaches than that of any other state in the Union. Here you can enjoy a fuller measure of bathing, boating and resort fun at less expense . . . (particularly low hotel rates are available to early season visitors).

SUMMER COMES TO THE FISHING GROUNDS!

You'll find in New Jersey a superb variety of fishing pleasures. Famous surf-casting and deep-sea fishing. Casting in well-stocked mountain streams . . . excellent lake fishing. Anglers' accommodations range from simple farm houses to the finest of resort hotels . . . all at a more moderate price.

SUMMER COMES TO THE FAIRWAYS!

New Jersey is a perfect spot for golfers. Courses are as varied in type as the amazingly varied topography of the land. Seaside courses, mountain courses . . . golf all year 'round on summer grass greens. Abundant facilities for tennis as well.

SUMMER COMES TO HISTORIC SPOTS!

It's easy to go off the beaten path in New Jersey...and to find quaint, fascinating little hamlets and villages cut right out of the pages of Early American History. Here is a rich lore of Americana, and a thoroughly inviting, completely restful vacation . . at a price that permits a longer stay.

SAILING over the broad surfaces of the greatest lakes in the world are the largest steamships on inland waters — big, comfortable D & C liners. If you're looking for a way to spend a different vacation, plan to cruise the Great Lakes!

D & C steamships are as completely equipped as ocean-going liners. They contain every comfort and convenience for the traveler . . . wide, sun-splashed decks, spacious salons, airy staterooms and suites, fine food, good dance music. World-travelers comment on the courtesy and excellence of D & C service.

• If you're motoring across country—free yourself of the strain of steady driving. Put your car on the boat. D & C rates are low for passenger cars.

You'll find a pleasant surprise awaiting you if you put the historic Great Lakes in your vacation plans. Sail on the D & C Lines. See your local travel agent.

• D & C liners sail between Detroit and Cleveland, Detroit and Buffalo (Niagara Falls). Also to Chicago, Mackinac Island and St. Ignace.

VACATION IN Air-Conditioned OREGON

Oregon's sunny days are never sultry. The tempering breezes of the Pacific Ocean and the mountains make all nights so cool you sleep under blankets.

Oregon is famed for its mountains and mountain sports. You may ski in midsummer on snowy slopes two miles high, ride horseback or hike down forest trails, fish in hidden lakes, camp or picnic in alpine meadows, fragrant with flowers. Visit Mt. Hood this summer! Drive on over the scenic Mt. Hood Loop, down the world-famous Columbia River Highway. Enroute see Bonneville Dam, Uncle Sam's gigantic power project. Pause at Multnomah Falls, a 620-foot ribbon of white. Write for the state's 28-page illustrated booklet. It is free.

Drive OREGON Highways

• Mt. Hood, like all of Oregon's great scenic attractions, is easily reached over superb highways.

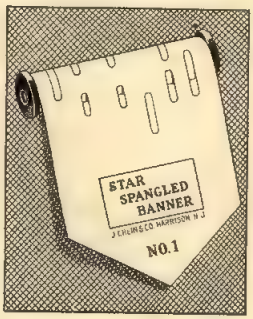
Every youngster will thrill to the music which he or she can create by merely turning a handle.

Every home will want one—Not alone for children, but grown-ups, too.

All will get a real pleasure out of a MELODY PLAYER.

Every country school—every kindergarten—thousands of social and fraternal organizations will enjoy the music of a Melody Player.

MELODY PLAYER is a sturdy, well-built musical instrument, constructed to play miniature music rolls—the same make and style as used in player pianos.

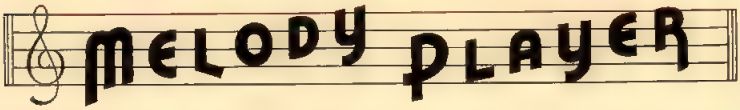


Reproduction of Counter and Window Display. Actual Size is 19¼" x 21".

For further information about MELODY PLAYER address your inquiries to

J. CHEIN & CO.
HARRISON, N. J.

BIG PROFITS FOR ALL WHO SELL



WE HAVE shown MELODY PLAYER to scores of buyers. They gave it unanimous and enthusiastic approval. They endorse our prediction that MELODY PLAYER will become one of the best sellers the industry has ever known. MELODY PLAYER, they admit, is a year 'round item with great sales possibilties every day of the year; and especially during holiday seasons. Its popular, "all-age" appeal; its lasting novelty; its tuneful music; its moderate price—all contribute in no small measure to the evident success of this wonderful, new musical toy.

MELODY PLAYER ... Will Enjoy a Wide Appeal Among Folks of All Ages.

Melody Player is a handsome, fascinating toy—attractive to young and old alike. It is simple for almost anyone, of any age to insert the music rolls and turn the crank. The resultant music is marvelous. So clear! So tuneful! Everyone who sees and hears it, will want to own one of these toys. The library of tunes to satisfy all tastes means added business thru the sale of Melody Player Music Rolls.

MELODY PLAYER Plays Most of the Favorite Tunes Everyone Likes.

There are Melody Player Music Rolls to satisfy almost everyone's taste for music. Following is a partial list of the library of songs:

1. Star Spangled Banner.
2. America.
3. Dixie.
4. Home Sweet Home.
5. My Old Kentucky Home.
6. Perfect Day.
7. Sidewalks of New York.
8. Silent Night.

Chart for Selecting Reflectors

By reference to the above chart the correct number and size of reflector for the particular installation may be obtained. For example a window nine feet high and five feet deep, and having a back ground of 5 feet in height will take a reflector No. 510, which may be determined from above chart by using the numbers shown in the columns.

No. and Size of Reflector Selected

No.	Wattage	No.	Wattage	No.	Wattage	No.	Wattage
310	100	420	150	530	200	844	150-100
400	150	500	200	804	200	900	500-300
410	150	510	200	842	500-300	1010	500-300

Installation and Wiring

The number of reflectors to use in a particular window is influenced by local conditions, and the intensity of lighting in the neighborhood, such as street illumination, neighboring windows, etc., but generally the following spacing is suggested:

Large Cities, business district . . . . . 12 inches
Large Cities, suburban district . . . . . 12 to 18 inches
Small Cities . . . . . 12 to 18 inches
Towns . . . . . 15 to 24 inches

The wiring of windows depends a great deal on the type of windows and other local conditions, but it is found in the majority of cases, the most efficient, neat and compact method is with the new CurtiStrip wireway, with its many fittings adapted to the various styles of X-ray Reflectors, meeting most all local conditions.

67,122,329 LIONEL

LIONEL OPENS THE THROTTLE FOR TRAIN SALES THIS YEAR WITH THE GREATEST SWEEP OF ADVERTISING IN ITS HISTORY

TIMED RIGHT AT THE PEAK OF YOUR BIG PROFIT SEASON

In pages, half-pages, big double-page spreads—in full color and in black-and-white—in newspapers, magazines, rotogravure, Sunday comics and in every important publication reaching Young America, Lionel is this year blazing its story of sensational developments in miniature railroading.

Never before in the toy industry an advertising campaign like this! Never before in Lionel's 38 years of leadership such new, important, sales-winning features to tell the world about!

When this year's great avalanche of advertising cracks across the sales horizon and fathers and sons learn for the first time what railroading thrills are in store for them, they will beat a path to the toy departments which display, advertise, promote and concentrate on Lionel.

No other train, no other line, no other manufacturer has this combination of prize-winning sales features—or anything to match them. Electric, remote control coupling and uncoupling—standard equipment this year in every Lionel "O" gauge outfit. Remote control loading and unloading of cars—as exciting as the sales-making Lionel built-in railroad whistle.

In 1938, don't buck the tide by trying to get along on anything less than Lionel. Ride the line that this year will carry you forward to record-breaking sales.

CALL YOUR JOBBER NOW . . . TODAY!

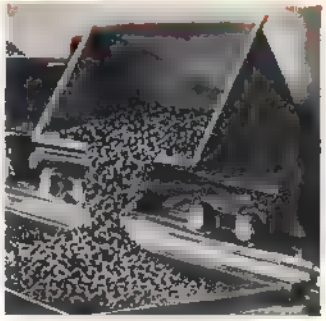
ADVERTISEMENTS

WHEN LIONEL UNLEASHES THIS NATION-WIDE CAMPAIGN

THESE ARE THE TRAIN FEATURES ALL AMERICA WILL BE TALKING ABOUT

UNCOUPLING Press button . built-in coil lifts couplers uncouples car . leaves it behind as the rest of train moves on.

LOADING Gate of chute in the elevator is opened by electric, remote control, allowing artificial coal to pour down into waiting car



UNLOADING You press a remote control button . the car tilts, unloading contents alongside track, right where you want it.

WHISTLING Only a Lionel has the realistic, inbuilt locomotive whistle. It can sound any signal of the Official Railway Code.

Not only in play features, but in locomotives, cars, accessories and all, the 1938 Lionel line is brilliantly new. Three highly detailed, six-drivewheel engines. New, low, long Pullman cars. Ingenious electrically-operated accessories. New "OO" gauge scale models, so compact they will operate on the top of a common bridge table Write at once for a copy of the complete, 52-page 1938 catalog—just issued.

AUTOMATIC TUNING

8-TUBE 3-BAND AC SUPER

A 100% 1939 Radio! Six station automatic tuning. Slide rule dial. Three-Band reception. Electric Tuning Eye. Now, beautiful, modernistic cabinet of unusual design. Gone are days of fiddling and fussing or asking "Where does 'XYZ' come in on the dial?" Each of the six buttons is plainly marked. Press a button and presto, your station comes in instantly. When tuning manually, you are provided with a long clear illuminated slide-rule dial with a pointer that goes from side to side with a velvety smoothness, with the further aid of the electric tuning eye for automatic half-line tuning. The powerful push-pull amplification of 5 watts is handled by a large 8" dynamic speaker that provides tones of auditorium volume with a depth and mellowness common to console amp. The gigantic symphony, the sweet mellowness of the violin, the soprano or the bass—all are handled with ease by virtue of the improved tone control. Station fading when tuning long distances is eliminated by automatic volume control. Extra sensitivity is attained by the use of three separate coils, an individual coil for each band. Tunes foreign stations from 17 to 55 meters (7,500 to 5,600 K.C.); short wave, aeroplanes, ships at sea, some foreign stations and police calls from 55 to 175 meters (5,800 to 1,700 K.C.); standard American broadcasts from 175 to 550 meters (540 to 1,700 K.C.). The cabinet is a masterpiece of furniture artistry. Wrought of high-grade matched striped walnut and hand-rubbed to a piano finish with a unique modern design of recessed dia panel and curved speaker gr l front and of one piece construction corner front and side design. Cabinet measures 19⅜" x 11½" x 10". Tubes employed are 6A7 6D6, 6Q7, 76, 2-43, 25Z5, 6U5. Operates on 110-volt current, 50 to 60 cycle only.

AUTOMATIC TUNING

11-TUBE 3-BAND SUPER CONSOLE

The Pickwick 11-tube Super-Heterodyne crowns the finest of a finely-engineered, multi-tube Super-Heterodyne, with six station automatic tuning of the simplest and finest design. The smallest child can tune his favorite station as well or as easily as a grown-up. Merely press a button and your station comes in instantly. The luxury of automatic tuning is coupled with the most type of manual tuning—long gold slide-rule dial, clearly calibrated in three bands, with the pointer moving from side to side with velvety smoothness. Accuracy in tuning is simplified by the electric tuning eye which, by opening and closing tells you when the station is tuned in properly.

- Foreign Reception
- Tone Control
- Automatic Volume Control
- Slide Rule Dial
- Push-Pull Amplification
- 5-Watt Output
- Electric Eye
- Powerful Speaker

A tremendous output of 5 watts is supplied by the equipment of push-pull amplification which develops tones that are ideal for great volume me ow depth and soul shakings. Tonal qualities of the receiver are further enhanced by the provision of a perfected tone control, which gives the emphasis of the high and low notes of music to your pleasure and to meet the acoustic requirements of your room. Tunes foreign stations from 17 to 55 meters (17,500 to 5,600 K.C.) amateur short wave, foreign ships at sea, aeroplanes and police calls from 55 to 175 meters (5,800 to 1,700 K.C.) standard domestic broadcasts from 175 to 550 meters (1,700 to 540 K.C.) Finely engineered with separate coils for each band, assuring a high state of sensitivity on all three bands. Automatic volume control prevents station fading and tuning noises. The cabinet is of hand rubbed piano finish striped walnut veneers in the latest modernistic design. The front panel is of one piece construction, eliminating the radio. Horizontal bars create an unusual speaker grill. Cabinet measures 39" high x 23" wide x 14½" deep. Tubes employed are 76 Osc., 6A7 Det., 6Q7 1st Audio & Amp., 76 Second Det. & Avc., 76 Audio Amp., 76 Phase Inverter, 2-43 Push Pull Audio, 2-25Z5 Rect., 6U5 Electric Eye. Operates on 110-volt, 50 to 60 cycle A.C. current only.

ORIGINALITY VERSUS PIRACY

By JAMES L. FRI

RETAILERS AND MANUFACTURERS ARE BECOMING INCREASINGLY CONSCIOUS OF THE NEED FOR PROTECTING IDEAS

PROFIT COMES and should come from new ideas and creative ability and an industry that does not have and maintain a number of originators will ultimately become unprofitable. Conversely, an industry which has a large number of originators will be profitable, even in periods of so-called "bad business."

The toy industry is and should be essentially an "idea" industry and for that reason its merchandising practices and profit are more susceptible to piracy than the average industry. Those acquainted with industry in general are well aware of the fact that there are few, if any, lines of merchandise which do not have relatively few creators and many imitators. It can be safely concluded, however, that the progress of an industry upward or downward as to standards, profit and prestige is almost entirely dependent upon the relative number of leaders, originators and creators in comparison with copiers. When the ratio of "hangers on" is high, the risk of putting money into new ideas, new equipment and new creations discourages new capital and the industry deteriorates.

■ Above Two Currently Popular Numbers in the Extensive Line of Knickerbocker Toy Co. Inc. Snow White is 16 in. high, has a Natural Hair Wig, Moving Eyes, Silk Moire Dress and Velvet Cape. Dopey, and His Six Compatriots Made of Stuffed Velvet are Available in 12 and 15-inch Sizes and Retail at Popular Prices. Also in the Line are the New Dwarfs with Built 'n Music Boxes that Play Popular Song Hits from Disney's "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs"

■ Below. One of the Leaders in the Sale of Outdoor Playthings is the No. 195 Teddy Bear Parade. This Item is but One of the Many New Numbers that will be Shown to Toy Fair Visitors by Fisher-Price Toys, Inc. The Teddy Bear Parade has the Bear Drum Major who Swings his Baton and the Bear Drummer who Beats Out a Tattoo as the Cart is Pulled Along. The Cart has a red Platform with Green Wheels While the Mechanical Figures are Attractively Colored The Retail Price is $1.00

Distinction should be made, however, between the manufacturer who takes a competitor's item and does nothing more than make exactly the same thing, larger or at a lower price, and one who takes a general idea which is in the current public mind and interprets it in the form of a toy, giving variation, value and distinctiveness—something different from that which is on the market The first type of manufacturer is a pirate—the second is a smart merchandiser.

If there is a broad interest on the part of the public in something which has possibilities of being translated into a toy, it is to be expected that a number of manufacturers will attempt to capitalize upon it, each interpreting it in his own way. This should not be confused with copying or piracy. The idea originated from outside the industry and it is the privilege of every manufacturer to make such use of consumer interests as he can This should be clearly distinguished from the practice of duplicating a competitor's original idea or stealing one for which a competitor has secured the right to manufacture. Failure to differentiate clearly between these two types of practice—admittedly they are not always distinct has caused much unjust criticism of wholly ethical and sound merchandising technique.

The following statement, in part, has just been received from a buyer who has for many years had the interests of the industry at heart—who is respected for his constructive suggestions and cooperation with manufacturers.

"The thoughts that I shall repeat here are all old and have been rehashed many times. They are not applicable to all manufacturers nor have I singled out in my mind any one manufacturer.

"We have too few manufacturers with ideas. They are few and far between in each line. There are a very few who create and the balance steal the ideas and produce them for less money.

"An honest manufacturer may spend weeks and months trying to think up a new game or a new doll or a new toy. Eventually he produces it, honestly, perhaps lovingly, putting into it the best he has to offer, using the best materials, giving it a good finish and making a brave effort to merchandise it. If the item is a success, it is immediately copied by practically everyone else manufacturing that particular line. This is not only unethical—it is so brazen that it almost smacks of the methods of racketeers * * * * *

"This idea of stealing the other fellow's item is resulting in a poorer product. The newer, cheaper product sells well and pushes the good product off the market. One experience will very often teach a producer of a new toy to study weeks beforehand all of the short-cuts that his competition may take and embody those short-cuts in the original article, thus producing it just as cheaply as possible and robbing the public of the beauty and the pleasure of a real first-class item.

"I do not find the American public averse to higher priced merchandise. There is so little real quality merchandise on the market that the general public seems to be hungry for it and willing to pay more money, but too many of the American manufacturers have the idea that every article must be priced right down to the bone, that the manufacturer himself trusts to luck as much as to his cost accounting to bring him out at the end of the year in the black. He is doing this because he is afraid of the cut-throat competition that is sure to pounce on him at the first opportunity. I do not believe that cheap toys, cheap paints and enamels, cheap art work, cheap boxes, cheap printing actually pay.

"I do not want to place the burden of responsibility for cheaper and cheaper merchandise wholly on the manufacturer. The buyers are responsible to a large degree, but regardless of the responsibility these conditions can and should be improved so that the consumer will get better real value and the industry, both the manufacturers and the distributors, realize the profit to which they are entitled for creating new merchandise."

CONCLUSIONS

As this buyer points out, both the manufacturer and the distributor are responsible, perhaps about equally so, for piracy. It may be concluded that under the present laws most piracy cannot be corrected by resort to the courts. The voluntary adoption of a higher degree of ethics and a higher standard of business practice, of course, would be the ideal solution. But beyond all this is a commensense recognition of two things: (1) Over a period of years the pirate has on the average shown a higher mortality, and (2) The industry that does not develop and encourage creators and originators will not long exist as a profitable industry.

Aside from the law and from the ethics of piracy, it has been demonstrated that it does not pay in the long run. As in the case of women's ready-to-wear, buyers should make this matter of copying their concern and should give consideration to ways and means of assisting in correcting the practice. More potential profit both for the manufacturer and the distributor goes "out the window" from piracy than from any other cause.

Special bound crotch; face and fingers lock stitched with heavy waxed linen thread. New adjustable wrist strap.

Johnny Mize

BASEMAN'S MITT

This new pattern is a favorite with big league first sackers. Made of finest selected Wilco tan horsehide. Constructed with a natural greased pocket that resembles the moulded pocket in the catcher's mitt. Hand tailored pad extra large thumb and T-shaped thumb web that traps the ball. Rolled leather binding, panel back and new type wrist strap fasteners, all help to a successful sales play.

Carl Hubbell

PITCHER'S GLOVE

Fits Carl's idea of a big glove forming a large pocket to conceal the ball. Genuine horsehide with greased pocket. Hand tailored pad and horsehide lining. Three leather tunnel loops with rawhide adjusting laces. Leather welted, diverted seams, rolled leather binding, rawhide lacing at wrist. Here's the design, the construction and the name to speed sales.

Pyrene Fire Extinguishers

Pyrene Extinguishers are safest for use on electrical fires of all kinds and for fires starting in oil, paint or other highly inflammable materials. The liquid is non-conductive and will not injure electrical equipment.

The contents will not freeze at 50°F. below zero. Needs no recharging until used.

The 1-pint size is made especially for the modern car. It contains enough liquid to extinguish any incipient automobile fire.

The 1 and 1½-quart sizes (not pint size) are labeled by the Underwriters' Laboratories.

*Also C21C Truck Bracket, C21M Motorcycle Type and C21P Airplane Type, same price.

Pyrene 2-Quart Pressure Type Fire Extinguishers

This vaporizing liquid type fire extinguisher is operated by air pressure. It is recommended for incipient fires in all classes of material, and especially for inflammable liquids and electrical fires.

It is ruggedly constructed throughout of copper and brass. It has a special combination nozzle which produces a solid stream when opened wide, a fan-shaped spray when opened partially and is closed when in normal position.

The fan-shaped spray instantly vaporizes the liquid, thereby displacing oxygen and smothering the fire, and is especially valuable for extinguishing fires in well-filled containers.

Operated by air pressure, it is easy to use in congested places and to direct the stream where it is most needed.

The air pressure is renewable at any air line producing 100 pounds pressure.

Height 18 inches. Diameter 5 inches.

Sold completely charged and with wall bracket, screws, and recharge date tag. For mounting on vehicles subjected to vibration, a special clamping type bracket is available, which may be mounted on running board, instrument board, side of cab, or deck and in any position.

Weight charged, 16½ pounds; shipping weight 18 pounds.

Pyrene One-Gallon Pressure Type Fire Extinguishers

Especially adapted for large industrial use, protection of buses, filling stations, etc., and all electrical equipment needing greater capacity. Extinguisher of one-gallon capacity consists of top and bottom casting of high pressure brass to which is fastened inner and outer shell of heavy gauge seamless drawn tubing forming two chambers. Inner contains air pressure, outer, Pyrene Fire Extinguishing Liquid. Chambers sealed tightly against each other When operating valve wheel is turned, air pressure enters liquid chamber expelling continuous stream of liquid through flexible rubber covered metal hose.

Pump built into extinguisher used to replace air pressure. Air valve for use with service line also provided. Open face pressure gauge attached to top casting indicates correct air chamber pressure Inspection glass to observe liquid level on outer shell. Normal level, center.

Carrying strap provided. Leaves both hands free to operate extinguisher and control stream over a 30 to 40-foot range. Quarter turn of valve wheel stops or starts flow of liquid. Wall or vehicle bracket can also be provided. One-gallon pressure type Pyrene Fire Extinguisher inspected, labelled by Underwriters' Laboratories and approved by Associated Factory Mutual Laboratories.

Weight of extinguisher, filled ready for use, 34 lbs.; packed 1 to a carton, shipping weight, 39½ lbs.

Phomene Fire Extinguishers

Foam Type

Smothers fire—particularly fires in oil, gasoline, naphtha, tar, wax, grease, shellac and flammable solvents.

Built of cold rolled copper; seams are thoroughly sweated and heavily-backed with solder. A further safeguard against corrosion, the interior is completely coated with a lead alloy.

Releases 22 gallons of tough fire-killing foam. This foam spreads over burning surface, cuts off the supply of oxygen, and forms an air-tight and fire-proof blanket. Once extinguished, the fire cannot re-ignite because the foam blanket is still there.

Labeled by the Underwriters' Laboratories, and approved by insurance authorities.

Capacity, 2½ gallons. Height, 24 inches. Packed 1 in a cardboard carton. Shipping weight, 26½ pounds.

Worthington Vertical Single Stage Feather Valve Compressors

Type VS—Air-Cooled and Water Cooled

Water-Cooled Closed Type

Air-Cooled

Type VS-50 to 500 are air cooled and Type VS-300W to 1000W are water cooled. Suction and discharge valves are the quiet, efficient and durable feather valve.

The crank cases are provided with a combination oil gauge and filling cap, and oil drain which is readily accessible. The honed cylinders are replaceable.

A counter balanced crank shaft on all sizes is provided with Timken roller bearings on the VS-50 and VS-100 and die cast bearings on other units. The wrist pin is the full floating type. Lubrication in the VS-50 and 100 is provided by constant level splash system, while on the VS-200 to 500 and the VS-300W to 1000W a force feed pressure system is used. The air cooled machines are provided with a combination fan and flywheel. This, of course, is not necessary on the water cooled units. The VS-50 and 100 are furnished for Multi-V-Drive only, while the larger units can be supplied with Multi-V-Drive, crowned pulley for flat belt drive, or tight and loose pulleys for drive from a lineshaft.

All sizes can be furnished with automatic start and stop control for an intermittent air demand; or with constant speed pressure regulation which is recommended for any fairly constant air demand.

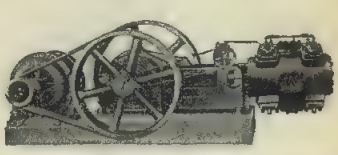
Worthington Single Horizontal Single-Stage Compressors

Type HS Steam Driven and Type HB Motor Driven



The regulation of single horizontal compressors is automatic or manual. The method employed is the Worthington bypass control and the unloading is accomplished by holding open all suction valves, allowing cool air or gas to pass in and out of the cylinder without compression.

The Worthington multi-v-drive is recommended for all motor driven compressors, and is supplied when so specified. A short center distance between compressor and motor is possible without an idler, due to the wedging action of the belts in the grooves. An engineered drive is available for each compressor, assuring uninterrupted service.

These compressors can also be furnished with flat belt drive for long, or with idler for short, center distances, or arranged to be direct coupled to an oil, gas, or steam engine, or an engine type synchronous motor. Conversion from one type of compressor drive to another type is relatively simple.

The compressor cylinder is of close grained semi-steel, with walls of sufficient thickness to permit two reborings. Both the cylinder and heads are provided with very large water jackets.

Large bolted covers are located on the side of the cylinder wall to give convenient access to the water jacket for cleaning.

Large discharge and suction passages, while contributing to the size of the cylinder, are factors of considerable importance in the efficiency obtainable. This liberal provision for port area practically eliminates all air friction and makes possible a performance ordinarily attained only in the very largest of compressors. The intake air is completely separated from heated surfaces by water jacketing, assuring the coldest possible air to the intake

The crankshaft is of open hearth forged steel ground to size and counterbalanced. The shaft, crank, and pin are included in a single piece. Crankpins are unusually large, assuring low bearing pressures

The connecting rod is of open hearth forged steel, which assures maximum strength with minimum reciprocating weight. The crankpin box is lined with genuine babbitt and is adjustable. The crosshead pin box is of special bearing bronze and is provided with wedge adjustment.

Tapered roller bearings, of the double-row type, serve as main crankshaft journals.

TOYS IN THE CHAIN STORES

The Woolworth Store in Lancaster, Pa., Which Was Opened in 1879, and from Which Has Grown the Great Woolworth Chain of Today

A Well Rounded Out Holiday Display Window Installed Last Christmas in One of the Many Montgomery Ward Chain Store Units

IN 1879, JUST twenty-four years prior to the publication of the first issue of PLAYTHINGS, Frank Woolworth, a young man of twenty-six, opened up the first 5 and 10c store, in Utica, N. Y. This store was a disappointment, and remained in business for but a short time. A second store was opened the same year in Lancaster, Pa., and the idea on which the store was founded proved a sound one and from it grew the largest chain store organization in the world. Since the inception of the first Woolworth store many chain store organizations, comprising thousands of units, have been formed; until today the chain stores are an important factor in the industry, their combined total toy sales reaching high into the millions.

A NECESSITY

The large volume of sales, and the success experienced by chain stores with toys, is due in no little part to the regard with which they are held. Toys are today considered necessities—items on which a profit may be made—and not merely a customer convenience, as they are unwittingly classed by some stores. Chain stores consider toys equally as important as the other items they carry; and it is for this reason that toys are always displayed prominently and not hidden away in dark corners. The chains recognize the demand for toys that exists every day in the year, and the large majority of chain store units maintain year 'round toy sections. New toys, as soon as they find their way to the market, are put on sale by the chains. This, plus the fact that chain stores have earned the reputation of giving good value, and that chain stores are main floor stores making the toys easily accessible to customers, is largely responsible for the volume of sales made.

On the Corner of Fifth Avenue and 39th Street in New York City Stands the Newest and Most Modern of the Woolworth Stores

GOOD VALUE

No matter what the public dictates demands, the toys in chain stores have always been known to represent good value. The mass buying power of chain stores enables them to effect considerable savings on their purchases. Inexpensive fixtures, low operating costs, cash transactions and no deliveries all combine toward making savings which are passed along to the customers. The fact that merchandise, because of its careful selection, never stays long on the counters, means that money is not tied up in large inventories. Although chain stores will frequently pay more to have an item made better than one handled in other retail outlets, they will sell the item at the same price as that at which the less costly item is sold by the other retailers. The mark-up on toys in the different chain store organizations varies from 33 1-3 to 38 percent, while the mark-up in department stores runs from 42 to 46 percent. Only the quick turn-over of stocks in the chain stores can account for a profitable operation on such low mark-ups.

SALES-TESTED

By dint of the buying methods employed by chain stores, practically every toy item is sales-tested, the possibility of large inventories is reduced to a minimum, and counters are filled with fast-selling items. The chains classify their stores in A, B, C, and sometimes D groups. When a new item with volume sales potentialities appears on the market, or is offered to the chain store buyer, orders are made out instructing the manufacturer to make shipments to certain key stores. The activity of the specific item in the key stores is watched, and if reorders from these stores are received within a certain period, then a distribution order is made out and instructions issued to the manufacturer to make shipments to an additional number of stores. The initial shipments to a key store are small, seldom being larger than two dozen of a dollar item for any one store. There seems to be no hard-and-fast rule governing the method by which new items find their way into the chains. Some chain store buyers use stores in the A-group as test-stores; other buyers use a cross section of A, B, C and D stores; and some chains have units designated as key stores. The sum and substance of the matter is that the chain store buyer is assured of the sales potentialities of a new toy before it finds its way into all the units. In addition to the distribution order, which is an order directing a manufacturer to make up and ship merchandise to specific stores on specific dates, or to district warehouses, there is the blanket order. A blanket order is made out by the chain store buyer who endeavers to estimate the quantity of a certain toy item that will be used by all the units during the year. The manufacturer receiving such an order makes up the stock, upon which the store units draw from time to time. Two features of the blanket order are that the manufacturer must be able to make shipments of merchandise as soon as orders are received, and that any portion of the order may be cancelled, subject to the approval of the manufacturer. Seldom are any large portions of a blanket order cancelled, however, as buyers usually endeavor to under-estimate, rather than over-estimate, their needs. A blanket order is of value to both manufacturer and chain store. The manufacturer can thus effect savings, through mass purchase of raw materials and minimum operating costs to be derived from planned production; and the chain store shares in the savings, either through the price paid for merchandise, or the quality.

In addition to distribution orders and blanket orders, the chain stores also have listings. Listings containing such pertinent information about toy items as description, weight, packing and price, are sent by the chain store toy buyer to the individual store managers. The store managers, in turn, order the merchandise as they need it, sending their orders to the toy buyer to be checked for quantities and then sent by the buyer to the manufacturer. Chains generally, endeavor to place their orders early, so that manufacturers can make up the goods with a minimum of operating expense.

Until five years ago toys sold by the chains seldom retailed for more than 50 cents. Today, increasing numbers of chains are finding that they can do a profitable volume business with dollar toys; and one organization has successfully experimented with toys retailing at more than two dollars. Fifty-nine years ago F. W. Woolworth had an idea which has since mushroomed out, until today chain store organizations sell millions of dollars worth of American toys, on the premise that toys are salable the year 'round and the public will always respond to good value.

Individual Pens and Pencils

DORIC

Attractively Boxed Combination Sets

Realizing the need for a popular priced line of pens made up along the lines of the new Doric, Eversharp has brought out a line of these pens at prices which are as low, in some instances lower, than many ordinary round model pens on the market. The same exotic colors, the same slim, tapering lines so characteristic of the Eversharp Doric, are found in this popular-priced Doric as well.

This line of pens carry the Eversharp factory guarantee, and are all fitted with the interchangeable nibs

Eversharp pencils are all equipped with Eversharp's propel, repel and expel movement, enabling the user to manipulate the lead at will.

The same colors featured in the Doric are supplied in this line. Jet black, kashmir pearl (a green pearl and black); and brown pearl. These are all exclusive colors, and must be seen to be truly appreciated.

Eversharp's Doric Adjustable Line

67S1321

67S1301

67S1351

Eversharp's Doric Adjustable, the Tailor Made Pen. Beauty, style, quality and refinement, all of these embodied in the perfect writing instrument. All this, coupled with the national advertising behind the line, make Eversharp a pen worthwhile selling. Millions know of it, use it, and praise it.

The line listed on this page is made in three styles: Ladies' short size with a clasp at the top of the cap; Men's regulation size with clip; also the Men's oversize pen with the clip. All three models have each and every one of Eversharp's noted features

1. Adjustable Point. It enables you to write as thick or as thin as you please. This is accomplished by merely sliding the adjustable plate to whatever position you may desire.
2. One-shot Filling Action. Raise the plunger, insert your pen in ink to the proper depth, depress your plunger all the way, your pen is full and ready to serve you again for a considerable length of time.
3. Transparent Barrel. Merely by holding the pen up to the light, you can immediately see how much ink there is in your barrel
4. Doric Shape. Because of its many sided shape, the pens listed here are in reality jewels of beauty. Getting away from the conventional round shape and making a sided pen is a great forward step in making more attractive writing instruments.
5. Lifetime Guarantee against defects in manufacture.

All the pens listed here are fitted with 14 Kt. solid gold iridium tipped pen points of the highest grade. The trimmings, such as clips, bands etc., are all gold filled. Pencils to match have a three-action movement. They propel, repel, and expel the lead. Eraser and lead chamber concealed on the inside of the barrel. The pencils match the pens in all details.

The sets are put up in beautiful presentation boxes.

Obtainable in four colors: Jet Black, Kashmir Green Pearl, Grey Pearl, and Brown Pearl.

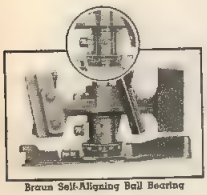
PENNSYLVANIA LAWN MOWERS



Braun Self-Aligning Ball Bearing

Pennsylvania Mowers have for over half a century been maintained at such a high standard of quality that the public has learned to place entire confidence in any lawn mower bearing the Pennsylvania brand.

An important special feature is the Braun Self-Aligning Ball Bearing (patented) which insures 100 per cent ball contact regardless of any stress or strain the machine may be subjected to. This means absolutely even wear on the knives, lessens the need for adjustment, results in easier cutting and makes the famous Pennsylvania Self-Sharpening feature more effective than ever. Tests at the factory have demonstrated that these bearings showed no signs of wear after running fifty hours a week for four months; equal to 12 years of actual lawn use.

Knives—High carbon crucible steel fitted as accurately as a pair of fine scissors. Pinions and Pawls—Extra large. Pinions have wider faces than on other machines. Pawls are of best tempered steel and are always in full gear. Drive Wheels—Have exceptionally large bearings. Gears set well off ground away from dirt. Oil Cups—Spring cover, to all main bearings. Stay-Tite Handles—Fit the most natural position of operator's hands.

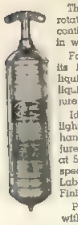
Pyrene Fire Extinguishers



The double-acting pump with patented rotating pick-up will discharge a steady, continuous stream 25 to 30 feet, no matter in what position the extinguisher is held.

For smothering all classes of fire in its incipient stage; fires in flammable liquids or electrical equipment. The liquid is non-conductive and will not injure electrical equipment.

Ideal for protecting schools and homes; light enough for women and children to handle easily. The liquid will not injure delicate products. It will not freeze at 50 degrees below zero Fahrenheit. Inspected and labeled by the Underwriters' Laboratories. When ordering Enamel Finish, specify color.

Prices are for Extinguisher complete with charge and bracket.

Pyrene Fire Extinguishers

Phomene Foam Type—Engine on Wheels

Portable. Install wherever quantities of materials of an oily or highly flammable character are manufactured, used or stored. Sheet steel outer tank with the seam riveted and welded, and a drawn steel bottom and dome pressed to the tank cylinder. Coated by hot dipped galvanizing. Finished in red enamel. Tests to 400 pounds. Cold-rolled copper, inner removable container, coated inside and out with a corrosion resisting alloy of lead and tin. Manually-operated stopple closes the container to prevent splashing Elects a tough heavy foam blanket that clings to walls or floats on surface of burning oil. Foam is non-damaging and respiration-proof. Shut-off nozzle stops the flow of foam as desired. Operates best between 55° and 90° Fahrenheit. Outdoor type equipped with 50 feet of drag rope and wire hose basket.

GENERAL ELECTRIC MAZDA LAMPS

Mazda lamps are consigned to dealers holding a contract with the Incandescent Lamp Department. The contract is in force for a period of one year. The discount extended to the dealer depends on the total sales made during this one-year period.

They are sold outright (not consigned) to large consumers, such as industrial plants, theatres and the like. Lamps sold to this class of trade are not to be re-sold at retail prices, but are solely for use in their own plants. Such consumers may obtain a discount based on the total purchases for a one-year period, providing a contract is signed.

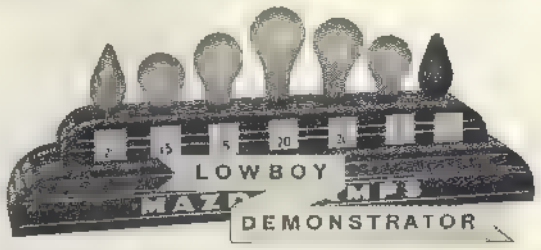
Mazda lamps may be sold to anyone not holding a contract at the list price; or at 15% discount from the list price, providing full standard packages are purchased.

Display Service

The manufacturer will supply to dealers a sales promoting display service, at a price of less than the cost of delivery. This service consists of a metal and wood base, with sockets for lighting effects, and a series of well-balanced displays spaced throughout the year. Ask our salesman for details

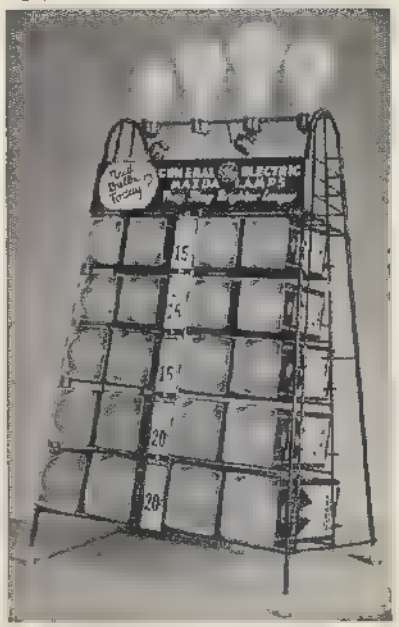
Demonstrator

"Double-Duty." For use inside the store. Glass sides, walnut finish base. Size 21x13x6 inches. Illuminated by a flashing light. Two test sockets.



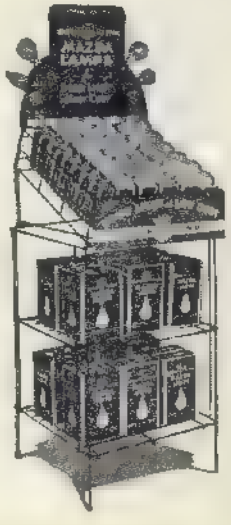
"Lowboy." A demonstrator for window or counter use. Finished in rich blue and silver, is 27 inches long, 5 inches wide and 5½ inches high and equipped with price cards.

"Counter Bin" Merchandiser



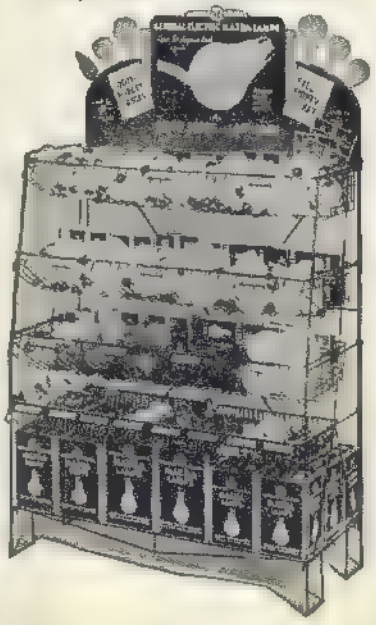
Wire counter display stands 23 inches high and is 15 inches wide at bottom and 10 inches from front to back. Finished in blue and white. May be had with test socket and cord at slight additional cost.

"Two-In-One" Merchandiser



Metal and wire merchandising and display unit for floor or for counter use. Attractively finished in two colors. May be had with test socket and cord at slight additional cost.

"Big-Bin" Merchandiser



Built of sturdy wire, finished in rich blue, with metal top piece in blue, yellow, orange and white. Top piece has space for displaying six unlighted lamps, and a test socket.

Ask our salesman for details concerning the above lamp displays.

Finest Quality ALVIN Silverplate

New CAMEO Pattern

Dessert Knife | Dessert Fork | Tea Spoon

The worth of the Cameo is not expressed in terms of intrinsic value—but in the supreme achievement of the craftsman in approaching perfection in relief-carving.

CAMEO pattern, in Alvin "highest grade silver-plate"—therefore—is correctly named; it represents all that could be desired in delicate relief and panel effects that have remained in vogue throughout the ages. "A gem in raised relief."

The Perfect EDUCATIONAL TOY

DEAR DADDY,
THANK YOU FOR THE DANDY TYPEWRITER.
I WILL NOT USE YOURS ANY MORE. I AM
WRITING LETTERS RIGHTAAND LEFT. I CAN TYPE WITH ALL MY FINGERS PRETTY WELL ALREADY,

Manning

MY NAME IS BARBARA. JULY FOURTH
FIVE YEARS OLD BUT I AM A BIG GIRL
HAVING A TYPEWRITER. IT MAKES ME FEEL GROWN UP.

I NEVER HEARD OF ANY GIRL LIKE ME

I LIKE MY TYPEWRITER VERY MUCH
BECAUSE I CAN WRITE LETTERS TO MY FRIENDS AND I DID WHEN I HAD A BIRTHDAY AND THEY SENT ME SUCH
LOVELY PRESENTS. OF COURSE,
MY MOMMY HAS TO HELP ME SPELL THE WORDS BECAUSE I DONT GO TO SCHOOL
YET.

IT WORKS FINE I NEVER HAVE ANY TRO
TROUBLE WITH IT. I SLIPPED ON THAT LINE. I AM SO PROUD TO OWN A TYPEWRITER.

I THINK BANTAM IS SUCH A CUTE
NAME FOR A TYPEWRITER. Barbara

A PRACTICAL TOY TYPEWRITER for CHILDREN!

RETAIL PRICE
$10.95
CARRYING CASE $1.50 EXTRA

All "toydom" is talking about the Bantam — the first practical junior typewriter for younger children at a price really within the reach of the toy trade.

Think of it! A toy typewriter that looks and writes like a standard portable. Standard A-Z alphabetical keyboard. Colored key cards. Full width platen. Standard typewriter ribbon. Solidly constructed. Mechanically simple. Designed by Remington typewriter engineers. Actually a "buy" at twice the price.

How do we do it? First, by eliminating every part not absolutely essential to the operation of the typewriter. Secondly, by passing on to the dealer and user the economies of mass production. Result: The lowest price at which a portable typewriter has ever been offered in this country.

Why do we do it? Because we want every child in the land to learn HOW TO TYPE — to learn on a Rem Rand product — to know and to have the advantage that the ability to type will give to them as they grow older.

Frank? We went to be. Toy buyers have been frank enough to tell us that they have been "waiting for the Bantam for years". Fathers and mothers have been frank enough to say that it is exactly what they have always wanted for their children. While the children themselves, bless their hearts, declare that they think it's just "the best toy ever."

BANTAM
A REM RAND PRODUCT

It teaches typing because it really types!

2. SET OF 5 BOARDS ONLY. You get extra profits from sales of these extra boards, and sales of extra packs of cards.

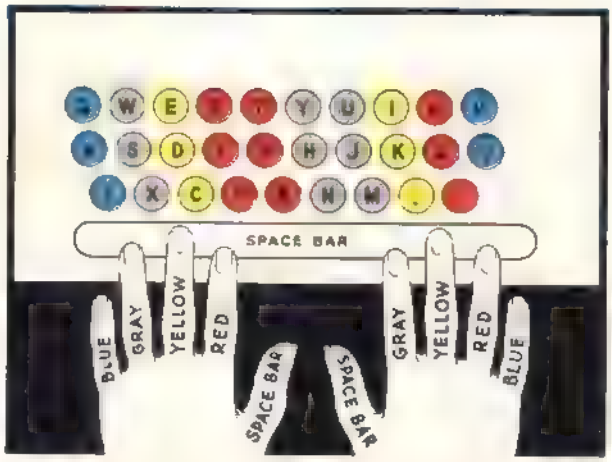
TOY TYPING

WITH THE

BANTAM TOY TYPEWRITER

Yes, even a child of five can quickly learn to type on the Bantam. The Remington "Self Instructor" keyboard makes it easy to learn the location of the keys and the correct fingers to use for typing.

And that's what makes the Bantam "the ideal educational toy." It may be used to write letters — to do homework — or just for fun — but most important, it brings to every youngster the opportunity to acquire an accomplishment that will be of great value in school, in college and throughout life.



The young typist learns the color of the keys for each finger, thus correct fingering soon becomes automatic.

For that reason, many leading toy dealers throughout the country are introducing the Bantam concurrently with the "opening of school" season. But more important, of course, will be the later promotions when experienced toy-men declare the Bantam will be the "hit" of the Christmas season.

You can still take profitable advantage of BOTH seasons by placing your order now for immediate delivery. But we urge you to be SURE of having sufficient stock to meet the Christmas demand by anticipating your requirements as far in advance as possible.

A REM RAND PRODUCT

A Rem Rand product—designed by Remington typewriter engineers—of high quality and standard construction throughout.
Mechanically simple — sturdy enough to withstand more than its share of abuse.
Standard A-Z alphabetical keyboard with period, comma and question mark. Writes all capital letters.
Uses standard six yard, one color ribbon available in any stationery or typewriter supply store.
Three-color, "Self Instructor" keyboard — an aid to beginners for guidance in correct fingering.
Each machine, with carrying case, packaged separately in strong corrugated paper container in which it may be re-shipped or delivered without repacking.

Billy Burke Registered Woods

Billy Burke Type Shafts

The Billy Burke type shaft, introduced and sold exclusively by Burke in Recorded clubs in 1936, proved to be more efficient than any shaft we have ever used. This pattern has an enlarged section just below the grip, which makes for a firm mid-section and definitely sets the point of flex. This shaft literally fires the club head thru the ball. The whole of the shaft gets into every shot, as the action is distributed thruout its entire length and is not concentrated in any one spot; this means the full power of the shaft is realized. The Billy Burke shaft has all the advantages of the extra stiff shaft in regard to accuracy, and has all the power and distance of the semi-whippy shaft—yet it has just the right amount of "feel."

True Temper Steel Shafts

Billy Burke "Registered" Woods. Medium size round type heads, full finished in black—faces of medium depth with new style cross scoring—Y type sole plates are inset, aluminum on numbers 1, 2, and 3—heavy brass on number 4—whipping at neck covered with black celluloid sleeve.

SELLING TOYS DOWN THROUGH THE YEARS

By ELEANOR N. KNOWLES

TOY MERCHANDISING has changed a lot more during the last 35 years than has the actual selling of toy items, and what changes have come in the selling may be directly traced to changes in merchandising more often than changes in human reactions on the part of both sales-people and customers.

Some of the merchandising changes are due to expanding markets, the multiplicity of toy items and variety of manufacturers, but more often they have been spawned in the crib of desire for price cutting competition.

Up to the years of the World War a buyer stocked the best he could find in domestic and foreign markets, took cognizance of the service to be rendered with a wide range of sizes and colors, and then told the sales force to "go to town," or whatever the current phrase of that particular era was. Customers still traded in a store because they always had; and had their special salesperson who knew their needs. There was none of this frantic rushing in to look at prices and then off to John Jones to see what they were selling toys for

COMPARISON SHOPPING

If you think stores have the only comparison shoppers, you are entirely mistaken, or haven't been around the retail trade lately. Patrons come in with tape lines to measure the height of dolls, the length of trucks . . . they would even count the parts on an electric train if there weren't so many. And all this can be traced to a consistant policy on the part of modern merchandising systems. The question whether it is a boon or a handicap to the stores depends entirely on how well the merchandising system can keep pace with this insatiable appetite for bargains now that it has received so much encouragement. The mortality of year around toy departments might be considered, as well, in all fairness, to the advent of the chain store era. There is only one store in the United States that can keep up some semblance of the holiday pitch the year around, and it couldn't either, if it wasn't located in the largest city in America and gets a tremendous amount of curious traffic from out of town visitors because of the reputation of the store as a whole, which traffic can be, and is, turned to actual sales by an alert sales force the year around.

But there were differences in selling 35 years ago, and not a few of them seem amusing when viewed in the light of this Year of Grace . . . 1938. For one thing, most of the merchandise in those days was of foreign make, and while the carriage trade was not so prone to ask where it came from, or how well it would wear, still there was a romantic glow of foreign lands to charge the minds of the sales-people. Foreign travel was reserved for the very rich or the more successful buyers, and clerks could dream, couldn't they? Today with vacations from two weeks to two months, cruise travel as cheap as staying at home almost, you can excite only a mild flurry of pseudo interest when salespersons are asked if they would like to visit one of the modern hives of industry that turn out toy items in million units annually.

At the turn of the century it was a productive selling tip to call Mrs Rockabilt's attention to the latest toy items from Germany or France that might bring pleasure to her Junior. Today Mrs. Rockabilt's Junior isn't the only child bored with ordinary toys. A suggestion of something new to an average middle class mother is likely as not to bring a curt: "Oh yes, Junior had one in Miami last winter. It was fun for a while, but he is tired of it. Have you any toy bombs or stratosphere ships?" Or the other extreme. "Junior doesn't play with baby toys, he is more interested in educational things. Even as a little fellow he wasn't like ordinary boys."

NEW ITEMS FEATURED IN THE SEPTEMBER "SALES TESTED" TOY LIST

THE SEPTEMBER LIST of "Sales-Tested" toys, selected by Schranz & Bieber Co., Inc., as the first 100 sellers in their stock of over 7,000 items is noticeable for its many new 1938 numbers. It was explained by I. Gottlieb, president of Schranz & Bieber that as the season advances, the reaction of the trade to the newly acquired items naturally becomes more marked. The Schranz & Bieber organization feel that the considerable time and effort spent in compiling these lists of "Sales-Tested" toys during the months of August, September and October of each year is most worth while. Reports from wholesalers and dealers in all parts of the country indicate that they carefully check each monthly compilation because they find it of great help in their Fall and Holiday buying.

A salesperson of yesteryear would tell her customer to take her time and look around. "Have the children try out those games and toys over in the corner and see how they like them." Today: "Have you seen that demonstrated? Yes? Shall I send it or will you take it? . . . Pardon me please, while you are deciding, I'll be waiting on this other customer. I'll be right back." Life is geared differently. There are sales quotas, like swords of Damocles. Courtesy to many has become only an "over the counter personality."

How many remember the days when customers were invited, nay urged to have parcels sent. Stores wanted mailing lists. Not so today. Sales classes are impressed with the fact that parcels cost 12c to 17c to be delivered; double if returned.

Post cards and hammocks were sold in toy departments and if sales people were asked for a toy for a child of five or six, they probably asked in turn . . . "Iron, wood or rubber?"

CONSTRUCTIVE SELLING

But of the things that have not changed much during that same span of years, are the good points of selling that are assimilated by every person who really likes to sell, and are subscribed to half heartedly by those who are using selling for a stop gap until marriage, or a real job comes along. Sales forces of 35 years ago were taught not to argue with the customer but to meet objections with well founded information that would not antagonize. They had mothers with "unusually bright" children, even then, though they didn't have that little pin called "IQ" on which to hook their boasting. In those days it was just as important to know as much as possible about what they were selling, as today. They were admonished to know all about items advertised, and where they were located in the department, and were quite as generally impressed with the fact that the reputation of the store was in their keeping, as are groups learning salesmanship today. Their's, however, was a more general knowledge. Large stores today must of necessity stress more highly specialized training by divisions. That is why many are unable to go on "flying squads" where they must have a general knowledge of toys and their proper selection.

DRESS IMPORTANT

It is interesting to look back at some of the classes for potential sales clerks conducted in the Spring of 1909, as reported in the June PLAYTHINGS of that year. It seems that a Miss Diana Hirschler was giving training to a group at the Girl's Evening High School in East 42nd Street, New York City. Dress was one of the first things analyzed. Girls were admonished not to wear conspicuous clothes or jewelry. "Last summer it was elbow sleeves that employers fought against. This season it is the Dutch neck that will come under the ban." Smile if you will, unless you are a personnel director. If you are, you will find a tinge of irony in your smile. It may not be the "Dutch neck" but artificial eyelashes, shorts and socks that are quite as much a problem today. Not that girls wear the last two, but some would try if there wasn't a line of demarkation somewhere.

On a couple of points, however, we find Miss Hirshchler's training does not apply today. She says . . . "Most girls are afraid to show an article that has a good price-value attached. Educate the trade to buy good stuff. To state the price immediately is bad selling. . . ." Comes here the changes in selling that have been influenced by the aforementioned merchandising systems of today. Customers come in prepared to state what they want to pay, and because of high sales quotas, a sales person cannot spend too much time with a patron, so must get at the price equation immediately, not by actually stating the price of an item necessarily, but by quoting a price range that will force a commitment to some sort of average. It is done today with the question . . . "What age child do you have in mind?" On ascertaining the age, a range of toy items are suggested, with the prices quoted simultaneously that does not put the customer too definitely on the spot. From here on it depends on the salesperson's ability to jockey the customer into the higher brackets; their persuasive surefooted arguments about certain items; how quickly they are able to pin the interest down to one or two items; the quick closing of the sale with no "loss of face" if a less expensive item is selected. "Close sales quickly and finally," is the watchword today, with the word "finally" underscored. The acid test of good salesmanship is to close a sale that means no dissatisfied return at some later date. . . . An expensive headache to all stores.

Antique Engines from the Year 1881 and Advancing to the Up-to-the-Minute Electrically Powered Models of 1938 Were Exhibited by the Weeden Mfg. Co. at the Recent Hudson Exhibit of Old Toys

SALES PSYCHOLOGY

On another point does the sales course of yesteryear differ from today. "Any one buying dolls is not pinched for money," said Miss Hershler in 1909. Every salesperson who has sold dolls, electric trains, or wheel goods in the past ten years will tell you that appearance will never tell the story. The sorriest looking prospect will more than likely carry out the biggest doll on the counter, the most elaborate train outfit, or velocipede. This psychological kink has been explained in many ways. One, is a predominance of foreign born in our metropolitan sections today who feel that the best is none too good for their children, no matter what their present circumstances may be. They will go short on entertainment or clothes for weeks to see their children have what they want Christmas morning. Another, the memory of a penny pinching childhood drives other parents to throw discretion to the winds, thus assuring their offspring a happy holiday season. This is especially true in credit houses, no matter how many depressions or recessions parade by year after year. So toy salespeople of today discount a good part of "appearance" and go into the routine that will quickly place the customer at a point of stating some sort of average he is prepared to pay, then going into the real sales work with no surprise, be it one extreme or the other.

Demonstrations have changed some through the years. They are not a product of the "gilded twenties" as some may think. There were demonstrators when PLAYTHINGS was in swaddling clothes, though of course not so many as today. They were an innovation and generally supplied by the stores since most of the manufacturers were not in this country. But the early days' demonstrators were just what the name implies. They only showed the function of the toy and did not attempt to run a book and sell other items between times, which in my humble opinion is not entirely wrong. As one sales manager said recently: "Our promotion people can only ride successfully one horse at a time."

No, the rules of good salesmanship have changed little in the passing years, only buying and merchandising methods have changed, and the results have made selling easier in the successful stores by virtue of traffic volume and harder in the ones not so successful for the same reason. Human nature has changed little on either side of the counter. Masses of the buying public have allowed certain groups to do hunks of their thinking for them, but when waited on individually, one finds much the same problems of 35 years ago, for regardless of passing years, changing merchandising plans, the nervous are still nervous, the arrogant, still arrogant and July O'Grady and the Colonel's Lady are still sisters under the skin.

A Ball and Basket Game

A NOTE APPEARING in PLAYTHINGS, May 1903, reads: "Kan-U-Katch is a new game which should have a good sale. It consists of a wire basket with a spring at the bottom. A small ball is thrown into the air by means of the spring, the object being to catch it in the basket in various ways." Strangely enough, thirty-five years later this game, under a new name and modernized, is popular once again.

IRON BENCH PLANES

STANLEY "BAILEY", ADJUSTABLE

Lever cap has a pear shaped hole which overcomes the tendency of lever cap to loosen when cutter is adjusted. This cap is the most satisfactory device for fastening the cutter. It exerts a sure, even pressure sufficient to hold cutter in correct position and prevents any chattering.

Plane iron or cutter has piece of extra high carbon content crucible steel fused to the lower carbon crucible steel backing to form a cutting edge, which results in a more practical construction for a cutter as it facilitates honing and yet permits a firmer seat on the frog.

Japanned frame; polished face and sides; adjustable endwise and sidewise; rosewood handle and knob.

HO-Gauge Equipment

TRACK—CROSSOVERS—SWITCHES

An outstanding feature of the new HO gauge track is that it only has two rails—just like the big railroads. Rails are solid drawn steel and each track section is mounted on a rounded base. 10 curve tracks form a 24-inch radius circle—thus permitting an entire railroad system to be installed in a small space.

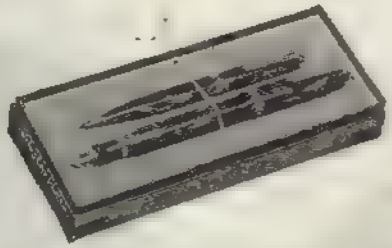
Parker Royal Challenger

With the "VISOMETER" Shows When to Refill

81S561



Not satisfied with their success after bringing out their De Luxe line, the Parker Pen Co. now presents The Parker "Royal Challenger," in truth a regal addition to the ever-popular line of Parker products.

The pens are fashioned of a high grade Pyralin stock in three colors, with a Chevron worked into the material itself at regular intervals around the cap and barrel, giving the pen and pencil a somewhat "princely" appearance; as if it were the dominant article in the pen field. Made in two sizes: Men's and thin ladies' style.

The filler is the ever reliable button type, a feature pioneered by Parker, and copied by many. The points are of solid gold, tipped with iridium and ground by expert workmen to a degree that insures writing satisfaction at all times. The trimmings are all gold filled. Now equipped with the "Visometer," a transparent section showing when to refill your pen. A newly designed "Sword-clip" further adds to the beauty of this outstanding pen

The pencil has a three-action movement, propelling, repelling and expelling the lead. An extra lead chamber together with eraser and concealed on the inside of the barrel. Trimmings match the pen in all respects.

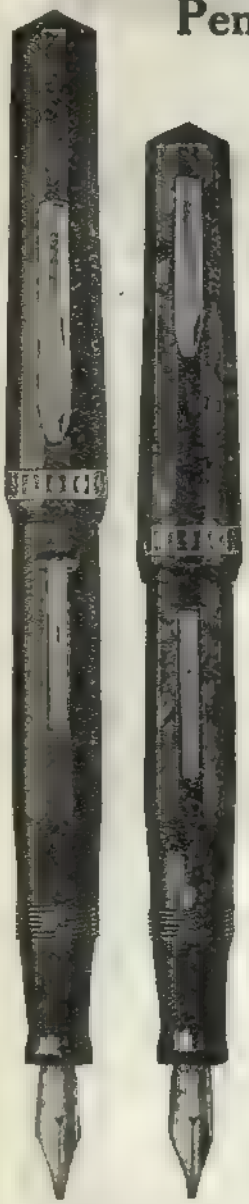
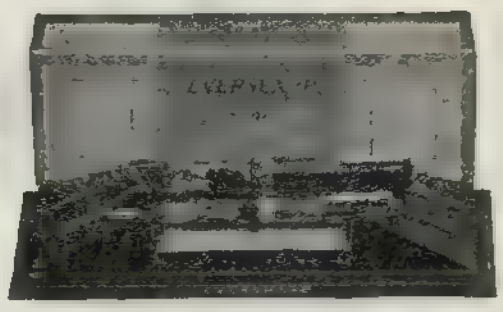
DORIC

Attractively Boxed Combination Sets





Realizing the need for a popular priced line of pens made up along the lines of the new Doric, Eversharp has brought out a line of these pens at prices which are as low, in some instances lower, than many ordinary round model pens on the market. The same exotic colors, the same slim, tapering lines so characteristic of the Eversharp Doric, are found in this popular-priced Doric as well.

This line of pens carry the Eversharp factory guarantee, and are all fitted with the interchangeable nibs.

Eversharp pencils are all equipped with Eversharp's propel, repel and expel movement, enabling the user to manipulate the lead at will.

The same colors featured in the Doric are supplied in this line, Jet black, kashmir pearl (a green pearl and black); and brown pearl. These are all exclusive colors, and must be seen to be truly appreciated.

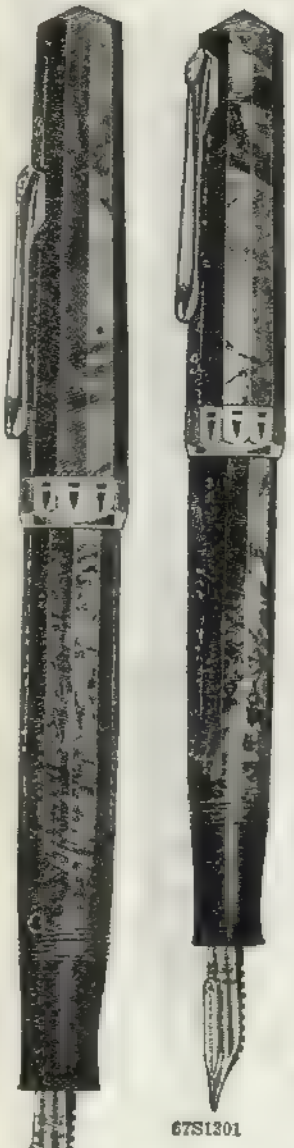
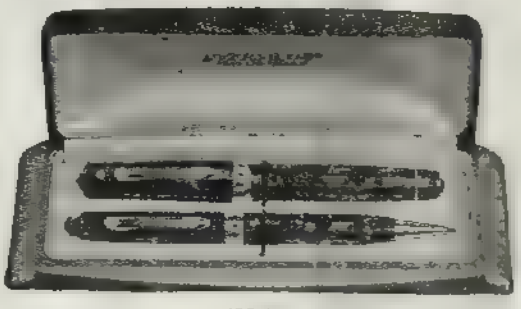
Eversharp's Doric Adjustable Line



67S1301



67S1351

Eversharp's Doric Adjustable, the Tailor Made Pen. Beauty, style quality and refinement, all of these embodied in the perfect writing instrument. All this, coupled with the national advertising behind the line, make Eversharp a pen worthwhile selling. Millions know of it, use it, and praise it.

The line listed on this page is made in three styles: Ladies' short size with a clasp at the top of the cap. Men's regulation size with clip; also the Men's oversize pen with the clip. All three models have each and every one of Eversharp's noted features.

1. Adjustable Point. It enables you to write as thick or as thin as you please. This is accomplished by merely sliding the adjustable plate to whatever position you may desire.
2. One-shot Filling Action. Raise the plunger, insert your pen in ink to the proper depth, depress your plunger all the way, your pen is full and ready to serve you again for a considerable length of time.
3. Transparent Barrel. Merely by holding the pen up to the light, you can immediately see how much ink there is in your barrel.
4. Doric Shape. Because of its many sided shape, the pens listed here are in reality jewels of beauty. Getting away from the conventional round shape and making a sided pen is a great forward step in making more attractive writing instruments.
5. Lifetime Guarantee against defects in manufacture.

All the pens listed here are fitted with 14 Kt. solid gold iridium tipped pen points of the highest grade. The trimmings, such as clips, bands, etc., are all gold filled. Pencils to match have a three-action movement. They propel, repel, and expel the lead. Eraser and lead chamber concealed on the inside of the barrel. The pencils match the pens in all details.

The sets are put up in beautiful presentation boxes.

Obtainable in four colors: Jet Black, Kashmir Green Pearl, Grey Pearl, and Brown Pearl.

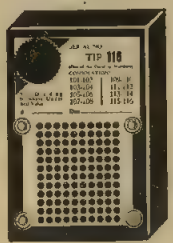
SEAL TYPE TIP BOARD



120 HOLES

JUMBO STYLE

On a Tip Board the only "wild" numbers are the consolation awards. The major award is paid on a winning number conceled under a seal, this seal number being a combination of the "Tip" number printed on the face of the board, and one other number.

Players punching out tickets bearing the "Tip" number hold them as possible winners. When the board is completely punched out, the seal is removed, and the winning combination of numbers is revealed. As shown in the illustration, there are a number of consolation awards. Tip Boards can be operated at 5c, 10c or 25c per punch and the awards regulated in proportion to the total amount taken in.

HOW YOU ARE PROTECTED BY SELF REGISTERING FEATURES

When a punch is taken on these boards a ball drops behind a window. The number of balls indicates the amount due. After payment is made, the dealer inserts through a small hole at the top of the board, the trip rod furnished and presses down the spring which forms the bottom of the compartment behind the transparent window. This opens a lower chamber and the played balls drop from view. Then the dealer removes the trip rod and the board is ready for the next player. The punch hole in the face is considerably smaller than the hole retaining the balls. It is IMPOSSIBLE to insert a foreign winner through a punched hole so not can a winner be taken from the board. The player sees it only through the window. Pellet boards are especially popular in restricted territories as there are no numbers on the balls. The method is based entirely upon color

Railroad Equipment for American Flyer Trains

To insure perfect operation of your train be certain to specify American Flyer Transformers. Speed Control—by "fractional voltage steps" eliminates necessity of a rheostat. Dyal Operation speeds can be changed much easier than on the old-fashioned switch lever. Concealed Switch—No contacts exposed, eliminating possibilities of a short circuit. Direct Reading—The arrow on the dial knob points directly on the chart to the voltage the transformer is giving. Approved Type—Meets all requirements and are approved by the National Board of Underwriters

Accessories for American Flyer Trains

NEW REMOTE CONTROL WHISTLE UNIT

This whistle unit will operate satisfactorily on any electrical railroad where the transformer has a capacity of 60 watts or more. It can be used with any make and any type of train, freight, passenger or streamline, narrow or wide gauge—it makes no difference.

The two-tone air whistle is driven by an electric motor, similar to those used in the locomotives. There is no rectifier or other delicate gadgets to get out of order, and it is not necessary to make any alterations in the tenders or track, etc. Nor are there any complicated instructions to learn—has only one button to push.

The train does not slow down when the whistle is operated, and works equally as well whether the train is running or standing still. It always gives an even, uniform volume of sound—it is fully dependable at all times.

The whistle is housed in a beautiful double billboard. It is pleasing to look at from any angle and adds realism to a railroad system. This colorful billboard takes the place of control boxes or similar apparatus.

A code showing all whistle signals used in railroading practice is included with the instruction sheet. This code gives all the steam signals used by the engineer as well as the air signals used by the brakeman in signaling the engineer from the rear of the train. With this code a small child can give the signal for each and every movement of the train—just like a real railroad.

Operates on either 60 or 25 cycle alternating current. Size 8¾ inches long x 3¾ inches high x 2⅝ inches wide.

No. 40N600 (Mfg. No. 2029). Each 1.67

A Brand New Kind of Electric Train Track

Here is a track so far ahead, so infinitely superior to old-type rigid track, that it is certain to revolutionize electric train merchandising! A track you simply roll into position, in an infinite variety of track layouts never before possible! Then, it rolls up into a tidy roll you can carry in your hand, and store anywhere! Gleaming metal rails, realistic, natural wood ties, smoother, quieter operation, amazing strength and durability—these are only a few of the features through which Flex-I-Track brings new thrills, new interest, and new ease of operation to miniature railroading!

THINK OF A TRACK THAT:

1. Will run around chair or table legs, over rugs and books, from room to room, and back to the starting point with no hook-up worries.
2. Will form new curves and shapes impossible with old-type rigid track!
3. Will support the weight of a grown man without bending out of shape!
4. Eliminates all the back-breaking labor of connecting track sections!
5. You can quickly roll up and put away!

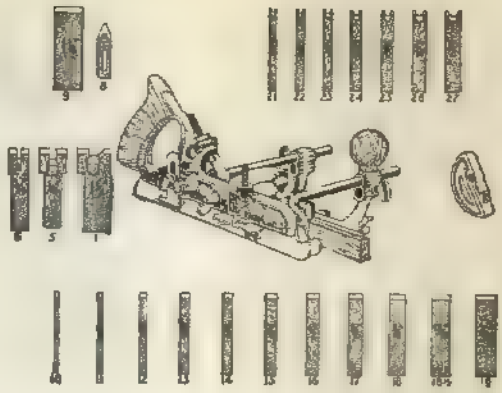
Can be used as a plow, dado, filletster, matching and rabbet plane, fitted with spurs depth gauge and fence with rosewood face, rosewood handle and knob, nickel plated.

The cutters comprise 9 plow and dado bits: 3/16, ¼, 5/16, ⅜, ½, ⅝, ⅞, 13/16, and 1¼ inch; a 1½ inch filletster cutter; a ¼ inch tonguing tool, and a slitting cutter.

No. 46—Len. 9¼ ins., with 12 cutters, wt. 4⅛ lbs., ea. $15.00

PLOW, DADO, BEADING, RABBET, MATCH, ETC.



Seven tools in one in compact and practical form. 1. Beading and center beading plane. 2. Plow. 3. Dado. 4. Rabbet and filletster. 5. Match plane. 6. Sash plane. 7. Slitting plane.

The plane has two principal parts, a main stock and a sliding section. The main stock carries the handle, cutter adjustment, a slitting tool, depth gauge, and forms a bearing for one edge of the cutter. The sliding section slides on two arms secured in the stock and has a bearing for the other edge, allowing cutters of different width to be used. A fence also slides on these arms for use when working as a plow, beader or filletster, to gauge the distance from the cutter to the edge of the board, and to keep the cutter at right angles to same. When used as a filletster, the fence slides under the bottom of the plane and determines the width of cutter exposed to the work.

The plane is fitted with spurs for use across the grain, etc., and can be used either right or left hand.

For beading at a distance from the edge of a board, attach cam rest (see cut at right of plane) to the front arm between the sliding section and fence to prevent the fence sagging. In certain work attach same to the rear arm to prevent the plane from rocking.

Nickel-plated rosewood handle, knob and fence.

Following cutters furnished with each plane.

This tool, in addition to being a beading and center beading plane, a plow, dado rabbet, filletster, and match plane, a sash plane and a slitting plane, is also a superior moulding plane, and will accommodate cutters of almost any shape and size. In fact, it is "A PLANING MILL WITHIN ITSELF."

The samples of work illustrated, show some of the mouldings that can be made with cutters regularly furnished with each plane

It has: A main stock "A" which carries the cutter adjustment, a handle, a depth gauge, a slitting gauge, and has a steel bottom forming a bearing for one edge of the cutter. A sliding section "B" with a steel bottom gives bearing for the other edge of the cutter and slides on arms secured in the main stock. This bottom can be raised or lowered so that, in addition to allowing the use of cutters of different widths, cutters can be used having one edge higher or lower than the edge supported in the main stock. An extra support or stop is necessary for cutters which first enter the wood at a point between the outside edges, and is a benefit for such cutters, which, if the plane were accidentally tilted, would tend to gouge the work. The auxiliary center bottom "C" which can be adjusted for width or depth, fulfills this requirement. Fence, "D" has a lateral adjustment, by means of a screw, for extra fine work. The fences can be used on either side of the plane, and the rosewood guides can be tilted to any desired angle up to forty-five degrees, by loosening the screws on the face. Fence "E" can be reversed for center beading wide boards.

The plane is fitted with spurs also a special cam rest, to be located on the front arm when working at a distance from the edge of the board, to keep the fence from sagging, or on the rear arm on certain work, to prevent the possibility of the plane rocking.

The four small cuts in the corners, show how the bottoms should be set for different forms of cutters, and the great importance of having the fences adjusted so that the cutters will not run.

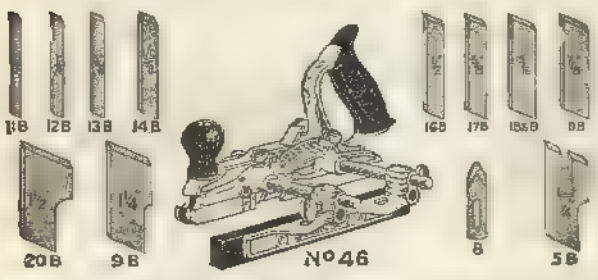
PLOW, DADO, FILLETSTER AND MATCHING

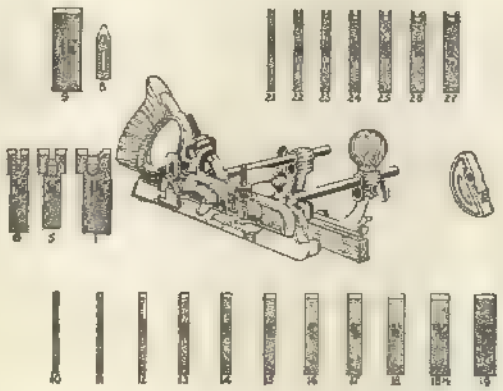


Can be used as a plow, dado, filletster, matching and rabbet plane, fitted with spurs depth gauge and fence with rosewood face, rosewood handle and knob, nickel plated.

The cutters comprise 9 plow and dado bits: 3/16, 1/4, 5/16, 3/8, 1/2, 5/8, 7/8, 18/16, and 1 1/4 inch; a 1 1/2 inch filletster cutter; a 1/4 inch tonguing tool, and a slitting cutter.

No. 46—Len. 9 1/4 ins., with 12 cutters, wt. 4 1/2 lbs., ea. $15.00

PLOW, DADO, BEADING, RABBET, MATCH, ETC.



Seven tools in one in compact and practical form. 1. Beading and center beading plane. 2. Plow. 3. Dado. 4. Rabbet and filletster. 5. Match plane. 6. Sash plane. 7. Slitting plane.

The plane has two principal parts, a main stock and a sliding section. The main stock carries the handle, cutter adjustment, a slitting tool, depth gauge, and forms a bearing for one edge of the cutter. The sliding section slides on two arms secured in the stock and has a bearing for the other edge, allowing cutters of different width to be used. A fence also slides on these arms for use when working as a plow, beader or filletster, to gauge the distance from the cutter to the edge of the board, and to keep the cutter at right angles to same. When used as a filletster, the fence slides under the bottom of the plane and determines the width of cutter exposed to the work.

The plane is fitted with spurs for use across the grain, etc., and can be used either right or left hand.

For beading at a distance from the edge of a board, attach cam rest (see cut at right of plane) to the front arm between the sliding section and fence to prevent the fence sagging. In certain work attach same to the rear arm to prevent the plane from rocking.

Nickel-plated rosewood handle, knob and fence.

Following cutters furnished with each plane.

This tool, in addition to being a beading and center beading plane, a plow, dado rabbet, filletster, and match plane, a sash plane and a slitting plane, is also a superior moulding plane, and will accommodate cutters of almost any shape and size. In fact, it is "A PLANING MILL WITHIN ITSELF."

The samples of work illustrated, show some of the mouldings that can be made with cutters regularly furnished with each plane.

It has: A main stock "A" which carries the cutter adjustment, a handle, a depth gauge, a slitting gauge, and has a steel bottom forming a bearing for one edge of the cutter. A sliding section "B" with a steel bottom gives bearing for the other edge of the cutter and slides on arms secured in the main stock. This bottom can be raised or lowered so that, in addition to allowing the use of cutters of different widths, cutters can be used having one edge higher or lower than the edge supported in the main stock. An extra support or stop is necessary for cutters which first enter the wood at a point between the outside edges, and is a benefit for such cutters, which, if the plane were accidentally tilted, would tend to gouge the work. The auxiliary center bottom "C" which can be adjusted for width or depth, fulfills this requirement. Fence, "D" has a lateral adjustment, by means of a screw, for extra fine work. The fences can be used on either side of the plane, and the rosewood guides can be tilted to any desired angle up to forty-five degrees, by loosening the screws on the face. Fence "E" can be reversed for center beading wide boards.

The plane is fitted with spurs, also a special cam rest, to be located on the front arm when working at a distance from the edge of the board, to keep the fence from sagging, or on the rear arm on certain work, to prevent the possibility of the plane rocking.

The four small cuts in the corners, show how the bottoms should be set for different forms of cutters, and the great importance of having the fences adjusted so that the cutters will not run.

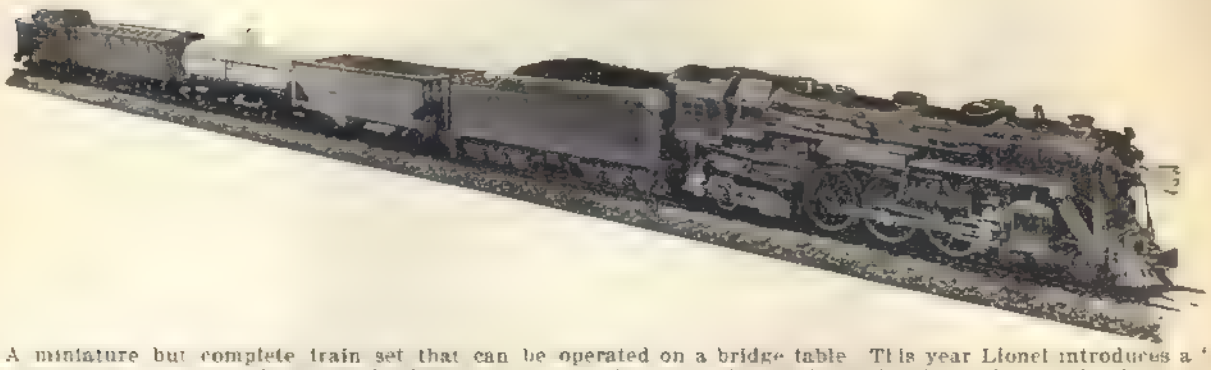
LIONEL SCALE MODEL "OO" GAUGE



A miniature but complete train set that can be operated on a bridge table. This year Lionel introduces a "OO" Gauge masterpiece—something entirely different. Locomotives as real as their big brothers of the rails. Real cars. A real railroad operating in an absolute minimum of space.

Five-eighths the size of "O" Gauge, one seventy-sixth the size of the prototype, "OO" Gauge track measures ¾ inch between running rails. A circle of curved track measures 27 inches in diameter from center rails, the smallest practical track circle in the world! Lionel "OO" Gauge track has an inside 3rd rail. This inside 3rd rail makes it possible to add automatic accessories later and provides more dependable mechanism with less chance of short circuits because it is not necessary to insulate the wheels. Lionel track is mounted on a Bakelite base, moulded to represent rock ballast. Straight track measures 6¼ inches in length. Curved track measures 6½ inches.

A CHRONOLOGICAL HISTORY OF

1938

The first issue of PLAYTHINGS was published in January, a tiny little book of sixteen pages and cover with seven advertisers. . . . Announcement was made of the formation of the National Novelty Corporation, with salesrooms at 826-828 Broadway, New York. This was called the "toy trust" and the first announcement stated that it would control eighty percent of the entire industry. This finally narrowed down to twenty-two manufacturers whose business was purchased by the Corporation. The officers were Nicholas H. Colwell, President; William J. Kidder, 1st Vice President; Adam C. Williams, 2nd Vice President; Edward S. Coe, Secretary, Dwight L. Mason, Assistant Secretary and Fred W. Crandall, Treasurer with A. A. Vantine as Chairman of the Finance Committee. Many well known salesmen were employed during the first year including Major F. W. Bruenghausen, George W. Jones, George J. Riemann, Jr., Albert Wilkens, Jr. and H. F. Willard.

Frank W. Owens succeeded H. F. Willard in charge of the domestic toy department of Geo. Borgfeldt & Co. . . . Ralph Brunn joined the selling staff of M. E. Converse Co. . . . Geo. McKee went to Steinfeld Bros. . . . C. W. Fly went to Baker & Bigler.

The firm of Baker & Bigler was formed as factory agents by DeWitt C. Baker and John Bigler, being incorporated later in the year. . . . Morton E. Converse Co. enlarged their factory at Winchendon, Mass. . . . H. P. Fabricius Toy & Notion Co. of St. Louis, moved to a much larger building. The D. P. Clark factory at Dayton, Ohio burned down . . . The Carrom trade mark was upheld in the courts. . . . The Keyon Hardware plant was destroyed by fire. . . .

Among the popular toys and games of the year were Flinch and Ping Pong (Parker Bros.), Sniff (Embossing Co.), Battle Winks and Egg & Spoon Race (Milton Bradley Co.), Parcheesi (Selchow & Righter Co.), Babyland and Stella rag dolls (Horsman), Auto-Star steering sled (Kalamazoo Sled Co.). . . . Steel jointed dolls were featured; table golf, parlor bowling, table tennis and hockey were popular. Lead soldiers were being made in Brooklyn. Humpty Dumpty Circus and Trinity Chimes were introduced by Schoenhut. Negomi was a card game designed for people who objected to regulation playing cards; instead of the usual suits, this game had apples, pears, grapes and cherries. . . . E. I. Horsman, Jr., was married in April.

Deaths of the year included Geo. Borgfeldt, founder of the business bearing his name, at the age of 70; Henry Schwarz famous toy man of Baltimore, 78 years old; Adolph Ehrlich, of the Stewart Dry Goods Co., Baltimore, age 32.

PLAYTHINGS had now doubled in size, having 32 pages and cover. It was published on Broadway, just below Canal Street. As the first toy paper in the world, it created great interest during its first year of publication.

Cartoon characters appeared in toyland—Buster Brown and Foxy Grandpa ornaments, books and puzzles. Bedella was a rubber doll which cried when squeezed. Among the new items were kindergarten [illegible] Strauss Mfg. Co., Paragon Gas Engine which ran on illuminating gas, Sir Peter Peppercorn and Sherlock Holmes

The Toy Auto of 904

(Parker Brothers), Siege of Port Arthur, Across the Yalu and Shadowgraphs (Milton Bradley Co.), Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch (Selchow & Righter); Kilbourn's Construction Strips—thin wooden strips with which all sorts of things could be built; Tumbelin, a board where capsules containing lead shot rolled down an inclined plane; a musical rattle drum which made a lot of noise; knock down sleds; Van building blocks which held together by means of an interlocking device; Fairyland rag dolls bearing the label of the National Consumers' League "Made under clean and healthful conditions", paper patterns for making dolls' clothes.

M. L. Kesner became toy buyer for Simpson, Crawford Co., New York. He was formerly with Lit Bros., Philadelphia. . . . I. J. Moskowitz went to N. Snellenburg & Co., Philadelphia, from Schlesinger & Mayer, Chicago. . . . Geo. Hegeman became toy buyer for R. H. Macy & Co. A. B. Feder, Jr., joined the staff of Simpson Crawford Co. from Siegel-Cooper Co., and George F. Passmore went to Siegel-Cooper Co., New York, from B. Nugent & Co., St. Louis. . . . Sol Wolf from N. Snellenburg & Co., Philadelphia, to Rochenburg & Co., New York. . . . R. I. Hudson became buyer for F. S. Brown Co., Fall River, Mass., formerly with Shartenberg & Robinson, Pawtucket, R. I. . . . Rothschild & Co., of Chicago, sent 31 buyers to New York occupying two Pullman cars. . . . [illegible] Leary joined the staff of the Outlet Co., Providence, R. I., coming from O'Gorman Co., and Mr. Klink transferred from the Outlet Co. to O'Gorman Co. . . . Clarence Condit, formerly with Selchow & Righter and E. I. Horsman Co. joined the staff of the National Novelty Corp. . . . Jos. W. Seabrey went from Geo. Borgfeldt & Co., to National Novelty Corp. . . . N. D. Cass Co., Athol, Mass., bought the C. H. Porter toy factory. . . . Otis W. Schwarzkopf joined the staff of Samstag & Hilder Bros., the Schwarzkopf Toy Co., having been burned out in the great Baltimore fire. . . . W. E. Schiehle joined the firm of D. P. Clark & Co., Dayton, Ohio. . . . The Appleton Toy & Furniture Co., Appleton, Wisc., was incorporated. . . . The new factory of D. P. Clark & Co., was completed. . . . H. G. Selfridge, of Marshall Field & Co., Chicago, bought the department store of Schlesinger & Mayer which became H. G. Selfridge & Co. . . . There was a slight fire in the warehouse of the Meinecke Toy Co., of Milwaukee. Daisy Mfg. Co., bought the Globe Air Rifle from J. A. Dubuar, of Northville, Mich. The Mary Ann Toy & Novelty Co., of Baltimore, was incorporated by Charles J. Dorsey. . . . Morton E. Converse was nominated for state senator in Massachusets. PLAYTHINGS published the story of John T. Doll, of John Wanamaker's, Philadelphia.

Among the buyers whose names appeared in the pages of PLAYTHINGS were Mike Kesner, buyer for Henry Siegel Syndicate, Chas. S. Hille and Fred M. Gwyer, of L. H. Mace & Co., New York, F. Bockhurst of John Wanamaker, New York, O. W. Watson, of Daniels & Fisher Stores Co., Denver, Colo., J. MacFarquhar, of S. Kann Sons & Co., Washington, D. C., Arthur S. Kaufman, of Chas. A. Kaufman, Ltd., New Orleans, La., Hiram W. Sibley, of Sibley, Lindsay & Curr, Rochester, N. Y., D. Burns, Boston Store, Chicago, Mr. Baer, of Stix, Baer & Fuller, St. Louis, Mo., E. A. Earnst, of Kaufman Straus Co., Louisville, Ky.

The activities of various salesmen were chronicled, among them E. F. Schwartz, of Strobel & Wilken Co., Emil Eschwege and Kurt Lutz of Louis Wolf & Co., Percy B. Atkins of Milton Bradley Co. . . . B. M. Thomas, who had been associated with the toy trade for sixty years, was with L. H. Mace & Co. . . . A group of men connected with Samstag & Hilder Bros., were remarkable for their long experience in toys, entering business as follows: I. C. Steuer, 1864; Phil. Koempel, 1867; Lewis Knerr, 1878; Dan Frohman (not the theatrical man), 1882 and Sig. Stoerger, 1889.

Death claimed the following members of the toy trade: Adolph Erlebach, of Horace Partridge & Co., and Louis Wolf & Co.; Wallie Dorr, manufacturer of billiard tables, age 61; George Mousley, well known importer of Philadelphia; Jos. B. Bloomingdale, who had retired from Bloomingdale Bros. in 1896; Sigmund S. Levy, of the wholesale toy house of Levy & Stern, Cleveland; Wm. P. Jeffery, who became toy buyer for Macy's in 1878 and made a remarkable record in building up that department.

The January issue of PLAYTHINGS showed additional growth, now reaching forty pages and cover and carrying the announcements of fifty advertisers including many American manufacturers. . . . It was noted that card games were big sellers during the summer months. Steel sail boats with folding keels were featured.

Snellenburg & Co., of Philadelphia, set apart a large section of one floor, calling it Pleasure Grove, where parents were invited to check their children while shopping. S. K. 1912

The importance of outdoor toys and games grew apace. The scope of construction toys was broadened. The Boy Scout movement, which was growing rapidly throughout the country, was having an important effect on the toy industry. . . Electric toys and especially electric trains were gaining wider popularity. . . . At a dinner of the Engineers Club in Kansas City a complete train equipment in running order was installed on the dinner table . . . The modern vogue of marionettes and ventriloquist dolls was foreshadowed by the production of a Punch & Judy Show provided with a blow pipe fitted with a reed to produce the ventriloquist effect.

On April 20th of this year, the plants, equipment and good will of the Hardware & Woodenware Mfg. Co. were offered at auction. A bid of $440,000.00 was made by A. A. Tisdale, of Leominster, Mass., representing a group of former plant owners and creditors. This bid was accepted and on August 13th the final transfer was made. Several of the factories were purchased outright by the former owners. In other cases purchasers effected financial arrangements with the Assets Realization Co., enabling them to take over the properties direct. The remainder of the factories were transferred to the Assets Realization Co. which started negotiations with the former owners for final sale and transfer. It was stated at the time that ample capital was provided so that all the plants would be in production without delay. The selling department of the factories was vested in the Managers Sales Co., which was incorporated to assume all the responsibility and obligations of the former receivers relating to sales. The stock of this company was controlled exclusively by the purchasers of the plants; the factories represented were:

J. Lions Cowen

F. W. Crandall Co., Gong Bell Mfg. Co., Grey Iron Casting Co., N. N. Hill Brass Co., Jones & Bixler Mfg. Co., Kenton Hardware Co., Noble & Cooley Co., S. A. Smith Co., J. & E. Stevens Co., Watrous Mfg. Co. and the Wilkins Toy Co. The officers of the Managers Sales Co. were: Ralph B. Cooley, President; K. K. Mackenzie, Treasurer. The salesrooms continued at 693 Broadway, New York, and no changes were made in the selling staff, which consisted of Geo. F. Riemann, Jr., as sales manager; E. W. Bruenninghausen, F. W. Seabrey, G. W. Frey, F. P. Sprague, W. G. Young, W. M. Billings, J. E. Travers, E. G. Peach and G. L. Avery. The Pacific Coast trade was taken over by George B. Paine of San Francisco. Thus ended the stormy history of the toy combination. Founded in 1903 under the name of the National Novelty Corp., it later became the Hardware & Woodenware Mfg. Co. The panic of 1907 made it difficult to secure funds and in February, 1908, an action in equity brought about the appointment of Nicholas H. Colwell as receiver, he being later replaced by Addison H. Cudworth and Fred W. Crandall.

In December of this year the Managers Sales Co. was succeeded by the Riemann, Seabrey Co. with George F. Riemann, Jr., as President; E. W. Bruenninghausen, Vice-President, and Ed. W. Seabrey, Treasurer.

Lead Soldiers Were Popular in 1906

1916

War drums in Europe rolled louder and louder in American ears. "Made in the U. S. A." was a popular slogan of the day as more and more playthings that were formerly imported were being expertly produced in this country. . . . Toys of a martial nature were very much in evidence. Guns cannon, soldiers, war boats, machine guns, drums, forts, war games, and dolls dressed as soldiers were big sellers. One doll group was called "The Preparedness Kids." . . . Glass Christmas tree ornaments were produced for the first time in this country by J. A. Deknatel & Son. The idea of "Made in America" glass ornaments was conceived by M. Pretzfelder, Secretary of that concern.

A group of toy manufacturers formed an association named the "Toy Manufacturers of the U. S. A." A. C. Gilbert was elected the first President. Fletcher D. Dodge was selected as Secretary. . . . The Whitman Publishing Co. was formed . . . The Hotel Breslin entered the Toy Fair picture, with exhibits at that location in addition to the Broadway Central, the original Toy Fair headquarters, and the Union Square Hotel. . . . Wm. L. Diemer became President and Treasurer of the National Wheel Co., after 25 years with the Gendron Wheel Co.

John Doll, dean of toy buyers, died after 52 years of service in the industry. Both his father and uncle had been toy merchants, and when he was 17 John Doll went to work in his father's jobbing house. In 1880 he became associated with John Wanamaker in Philadelphia, and established a toy department in that store. Later he went to the Wanamaker store in New York and started a toy department there, remaining in charge for eight years. Then he divided his time between the two stores for a few years. In the years preceding his death, Mr. Doll devoted himself exclusively to the Philadelphia store. Others prominent in the industry who died in 1916 were Emil Strobel, President of the Strobel & Wilken Co., who had been associated with that firm for half a century. Edmund U. Steiner, a veteran of 40 years' service in the trade, who had crossed the Atlantic Ocean 85 times; E. B. Winterhalter, Vice-President of the Meinecke Mfg. Co., after more than 30 years in the toy industry; Frederick Bockhurst, toy buyer in Wanamaker's New York store for many years; Aaron Wechsler, veteran buyer for A. I. Namm & Son; L. B. Ramsdell, President of L. B. Ramsdell & Co., and George Tonnolla, toy buyer for 12 years with Eisenberg's of Baltimore.

The United States entered the war. The Toy Manufacturers Association met in convention and forwarded a unanimous resolution to President Wilson approving his [illegible] upholding and maintaining the rights of American citizens at home and abroad," and pledged the organization "to support the President in every act to uphold the honor of the Republic."

Reports came in from all over the country of members of the toy industry going off to war, of others doing patriotic duty in their own communities, aiding in Liberty Loan sales, food growing and conservation, etc.

Many dolls made their appearance dressed as soldiers, sailors, nurses, etc., and in the costumes of Allied countries.

The Averill Mfg. Corp., introduced the Madame Hendren line of baby dolls. They had previously made Madame Hendren felt dressed character dolls. . . . Toy Fair exhibits were held at the Hotel Imperial for the first time. Other temporary displays were housed in the Hotel Breslin and the Union Square Hotel, but the Broadway Central was not included. . . . I. H. Davis and Fred W. Voetsch, formerly with Joseph Hahnesand & Co., formed the firm of Davis & Voetsch to act as manufacturers' selling agents and manufacturers of dolls and toys. . . . A. C. McClurg & Co., moved their wholesale salesrooms in Chicago to 330 352 E. Ohio St.

The World War Had Its Effect On the Type of Dolls Made in 1918

Charles S. Raizen, sales manager of the Transogram Co., became President of that firm. . . The Toy Manufacturers' Association held its first annual summer outing at Atlantic City. . . . The National Wheel Co., and the American Metal Wheel Co., merged under the name of American National Co.

Death came in 1917 to Joseph Hahnesand, one of the most popular of toy men, who had been connected with the industry ever since he secured a position as stock boy in a large toy house at the age of 14; to Alfred W. Bowie, Treasurer of the E. I. Horsman Co., who had been connected with that concern for more than 40 years; to Percy B. Atkins, manager of the game department of the Milton Bradley Co., who had been with that firm for 29 years; to Henry Bayer, toy buyer for the John Shillito Co., Cincinnati, who had been connected with that store for 34 years; to Morton E. Converse, founder of Morton E. Converse & Son and the Toy Town Tavern, who was a Civil War veteran, a pioneer toy maker, and a public spirited citizen who served in both the State Legislature and the State Senate in Massachusetts; to George B. Harrington, veteran toy buyer for the Houghton & Dutton Co., Boston; to D. C. Henry, veteran manufacturer and factory representative of Auburn, N. Y.

The Teddy Bear As It Looked When Introduced in 90s

"Christmas giving, which involves the purchase of gifts, should be discouraged," said a statement of the Council of National Defense. The toy trade, in common with other industries, had been affected by restrictions and regulations arising from war conditions. Labor and fuel were very scarce, the transportation of merchandise was a difficult matter, but sacrifices were expected and wholeheartedly made. However, the recommendation of the Council of National Defense was a hard blow to an industry as closely tied up with Christmas sales as the toy trade. So vigorous steps were taken to have toys officially sanctioned as Christmas gifts.

The Toy Manufacturers' Association had previously appointed a War Service Committee, with A. C. Gilbert as chairman, which had cooperated with the United States Shipping Board and other governmental agencies. This Committee arranged a hearing before the Council of National Defense, which consisted of six members of the President's Cabinet. Also present at the hearing were representatives of other organizations, retail and wholesale. Mr. Gilbert made a most forceful presentation of what the American toy industry was doing, why it should be conserved in order to hold its own after the war, and what American toys were doing to foster education and development of the nation's children. The Cabinet members were intensely interested in Mr. Gilbert's arguments, which were followed by a distribution of toys of various kinds for the inspection of the Council. The Council thereafter issued a statement sanctioning toys as essential.

The drive of the Red Cross for funds and the Liberty Loan campaigns were staunchly supported in the industry, with committees doing yeoman service. . . . An American made doll sold for $185.00. This was not due to the rising cost of living, however. The doll was sold at an auction for the benefit of the Red Cross. Toys were also used to aid the sale of War Saving Stamps and Liberty Bonds. Harry C. Ives was President of the Toy Manufacturers of the U. S. A. . . . Wm. D. Himsel was appointed manager of the New York office of the Milton Bradley Co. He had formerly been toy buyer for the Emery Bird, Thayer Co., Kansas City, for eleven years. . . . PLAYTHINGS prepared a brilliantly colored 24" x 30" poster for store display, showing the contrast between a home with toys and one without playthings on Christmas, and under the pictures the word-

The Kiddie Kar Attained Such Popularity in 1917 that on January 14th of That Year the New York Tribune Ran the Above Cartoon With the Caption Something Should be Done to Regulate the Growing Kiddie Kar Traffic

ing "Are Toys Essential? Ask the Man Who Fights."

Among members of the toy trade who died this year were Adam C. Knoll, manager of the New York office of the Milton Bradley Co., who had been with that firm for 24 years; T. C. Schoenhut, Vice President of the A. A. Schoenhut Co.; H. E. Riemann, Jr., President of the Riemann, Seabrey Co., who had been associated with the toy trade for 38 years; I. E. Horsman, Jr., only son of the pioneer toy manufacturer, and actively identified with the E. I. Horsman Co. since 1901 and Edward R. Ives, President and founder of the Ives Mfg. Corp., who had been active in the toy business for 53 years.

The war over this country was threatened with wholesale "dumping" of German dolls, toys and other merchandise. PLAYTHINGS conducted a vigorous campaign against such tactics in the toy trade. Newspapers and magazines all over the country pointed out the dangers to American industry and American citizens in the carefully planned campaign of propaganda and merchandising by Germany in many countries. The New York Tribune printed a series of articles exposing the strategy behind Germany's "invisible war," quoting from Herbert Hoover on the danger from national dumping of goods to crush competition. PLAYTHINGS ran many excerpts from these articles, which were very illuminating on the subject of German trade tactics. . . . The Toy Manufacturers of the U. S. A. raised a fund of $65,000.00 by contributions from its members and other toy manufacturers, to be used in a national advertising campaign to educate the public in the superiority of American made playthings.

Fortune telling boards and games were big sellers. . . . The novelty vogue of the year in the doll field was the "beach doll." These were fibre or wood composition figures of alluring girlies, many with veils, described in such lush terms as chic, charming, captivating, lovable, hugable, coquettish, adorable, dainty, vampish, chubby cherubs, demoniacally delightful, plutocratic peaches of peerless pulchritude, love pirates, beach flirts, star eyed sylphs of the sands, smiling sweeties of the silver sands.

Sam Drelich was appointed toy buyer for Gimbel's in New York, after several years as assistant buyer in their Philadelphia store. . . . E. J. Mordaunt and H. B. Woodward joined the PLAYTHINGS staff.

Among those in the toy industry who passed away were Alfred W. Chaffee, salesman for the Daisy Mfg. Co., for 30 years; Emil R. Schwerdtmann, toy man of St. Louis who had been engaged in the business for 42 years; Wm. C. Burdett, Master and Treasurer of the Whitney Kiddie Kar Corp., who had been identified with that concern for 26 years.

Governor Calvin Coolidge of Massachusetts (later to be President Coolidge) was pictured in the press while helping his son to build a pushmobile (later to be called a soap box racer) in the yard of the Coolidge home. Sales of wheel goods undoubtedly increased. Governor Coolidge was elected as Vice President of the U. S. A., his nomination for the office being [illegible] Roosevelt.

The A. G. Gilbert Co. and Wonderlic Supply & Mfg. Co., opened new showrooms in the Fifth Avenue Bldg., making twenty toy concerns with offices there. . . . The Milton Bradley Co., purchased the business of McLoughlin Bros., games and toy books, the books to be continued under the name of their original publisher.

M. Gerber, Philadelphia jobber who had been located on South Street for 20 years, purchased a modern five-story building at 505 Market St. . . . H. Winslow Fegley, toy and stationery jobber in Reading, Pa., bought a four-story fireproof building. S. O. Barnum & Son Co., Buffalo jobbers, celebrated their Diamond Anniversary after 75 years of successful business. William Ginsberg, one of the oldest toymen in Brooklyn, visited Europe while his son Charles took care of the business. During the past 40 years, or for more than 40 years in the toy business, Mr. Ginsberg had been located at 538 Fifth Ave., Brooklyn, in a building where a toy establishment had been conducted since 1852. Charles Ginsberg carries on at that address in 1938.

Mike Sweyd went West to open a showroom in San Francisco early in 1920, announcing a few months later that he intended to remain there indefinitely.

[illegible] Fair, Chicago department store, ran a newspaper advertisement comprising eight pages in colors, devoted entirely to toys. . . . W. J. Robb, for many years assistant toy buyer for Bamberger's in Newark, went to Cleveland to take the position of toy buyer for the Higbee Co.

The early days of prohibition prompted three women passengers of the White Star [illegible] Cretic to conceal a supply of brandy in the bodies of dolls which they carried as baggage, but not past customs officials. Ben W. McCready joined the PLAYTHINGS staff.

This year saw the advent of jumping sticks and dolls that could Papa as well as Mama. The craze for the jumping sticks had spread over several European countries, and it was now introduced here. Children started to pogo for fun and adults for exercise. An entire chorus in the Ziegfeld Midnight Frolic was mounted on pogo sticks for a newspaper [illegible]. The obstacle golf craze which was to sweep the country several years later was foreshadowed in Schoenhut's Indoor Golf, complete with sand traps bankers, water hazards, tees, greens, etc.

Fred A. Lundahl of the Moline Pressed Steel Co., introduced the Buddy "L" line of all-steel trucks, steam shovels and derricks. Mr. Lundahl, a mechanical engineer, worked out this line with strength and faithful reproduction in mind. These toys were retailed up to $10.00. Toy buyers were astonished at the ready acceptance by the public of such high priced pull toys. . . . Those of us who thought that quiz games came in with the radio should be interested to know that Quiz of the Wiz was introduced in 1921, inspired by Thomas A. Edison's well publicized employment tests.

The American Doll Manufacturers, Inc., adopted a slogan, "Avoid Childhood's Tragedy—a Broken Doll. Buy American Made Dolls." Parades through the streets of many cities were organized, featuring banners bearing the slogan. E. L. Horsman led the New York parade. . . . W. Voorhees joined the PLAYTHINGS staff.

E. W. Seabrey and Harry H. Hahn died this year. "Ed" Seabrey, President of the Riemann, Seabrey Co., started in the toy trade in 1892. He was only 46 when he died. Mr. Hahn was one of the "Old Guard" of the buyers. During his entire business life he held only two positions, buyer of toys for Ridley & Sons and for Koch & Co.

Radio was the wonder of the day. Its call of the "wireless telephone," this new gadget held the country enthralled. In a great many cases receiving sets were sold in toy departments. Consumer advertising on radios stressed ease of installation, the fact that broadcasting service was free, and the frequency of programs. There was sure to be something on the wireless telephone waves for fifteen minutes every hour, some programs coming "even from distances of as much as 200 miles."

Many people said that this new thing called radio was a passing fad—that it would soon become just a pastime for the amateur experimenter. Among many others, though, PLAYTHINGS had faith in the future and possibilities of radio. A few quotes from some articles in this magazine during 1922: "To my mind great broadcasting stations will be established by municipalities. There will be all sorts of news, all sorts of music in the air at all times. The owner of a radio outfit can pick out what he wants to hear." . . . "The improvements and refinements that are sure to come will permanently establish the wireless telephone as practically a household necessity." . . . "Undoubtedly radio has been injured by the wrong kind of manufacturers, and this is one of the reasons for a temporary lull in public interest. But one might as well try to sweep back the tides as to assume that radio is not a year 'round staple." And there was an article prophetically entitled: "A Passing Craze? No! Radio Wireless Has Come To Stay."

In 1922 "Bill" Robb resigned from the Higbee Co., in Cleveland to become toy buyer for Abraham & Straus in Brooklyn. . . . Wm. J. Schmitt was appointed buyer and manager of the wholesale department of the Schmelzer Co., Kansas City. . . The Alling Rubber Co. of Albany added toys to its stock, taking the same step in branch stores in Schenectady and Troy. . . . Flapper dolls were very popular. . . . Wm. F. Drueke, maker of chess sets, staged an exhibition at the Breslin Hotel during the Toy Fair, attended by several hundred people, in which Sammy Rzeschewski, Polish boy wonder, played simultaneously against twenty opponents. Later Sammy changed the spelling of his name to Reshevsky, became an American citizen and U. S. Chess Champion.

Speeches by Robert H. McCready on "Economic Conditions in Germany as they Apply to American Industry" before the Toy Manufacturers' Association, the New Jersey Chemical Society, the Jersey Chamber of Commerce, the New York Business Publishers' Association and other organizations brought insistent calls from similar associations in Buffalo, Cincinnati, Chicago and other cities. Mr. McCready therefore made a speaking tour which brought him to Chicago during the Toy Fair there. . . . PLAYTHINGS moved its publication offices to New York to 381 Fourth Ave., and also moved its Chicago office.

Mike Sweyd
Who Took the Advice, "Go West Young Man, Go West"

1923

Mah Jongg after a modest start the previous year, rode the crest of popular approval. Socialites and the boys in the back room talked knowingly about tiles, pungs, bamboos, East Winds and other terms of the game. Stores gave free lessons, many securing instructors who had lived in the Orient. One jobber was reported to have had forty different versions of Chinese games displayed side by side.

The Bye-Lo Baby, Grace Storey's creation, was introduced by Geo. Borgfeldt & Co. . . . Play balls became big sellers. . . Jackie Coogan visited every exhibit at the Toy Fair, gaining much newspaper publicity for toys. . . Johnson's Book Store of Springfield, Mass., celebrated its 30th anniversary.

J. A. "Billy" Noble was tendered a party by Bamberger's of Newark in recognition of his twenty-five years service as toy buyer for that firm. . . . George A. Fox was President of the Toy Manufacturers of the U. S. A. . . . The Toy Fair Chamber of Commerce was formed, with N. D. Cass as first President. . . Wm. H. Mallory, veteran toy dealer of Atlantic City, died, as did also John L. Watrous, who had been engaged in the manufacture of toys for more than thirty years.

The cross word puzzle craze swept the country. Newspapers and magazines featured the checkered diagrams, and publishers hardly seemed able to print enough Cross Word Puzzle Books to satisfy the public's insatiable demand. Cross word puzzle games, boards, cards, and other variations were introduced, including a construction toy in which solving the puzzle built a house. The Frank Gaby Ventriloquist Doll was introduced.

The first annual Toy Fair Banquet was held, with entertainment headed by Ann Pennington, Hilda Ferguson and others from the Ziegfeld follies. . . . Eighteen progressive toy salesmen, together with their wives or best girls, held a dinner and dance at the famous old eating house of Cavanaugh's. An association named the Toy Knights was formed, having for its purpose the promotion of good fellowship in the toy trade.

Death came during the year to "The Major" E. W. Brueninghausen, who died at the age of 81 after a strenuous and colorful career, including 49 years in the toy business; to Leo Schlesinger, maker of metal toys for 52 years, and third President of the Toy Manufacturers of the U. S. A. to J. G. Alexander, general manager of the Dayton Toy & Specialty Co., and to Frank W. Levy, member of the firm of Averill Mfg. Co.

Col. Theodore Roosevelt, son of the former President, spoke at the second annual Toy Fair Banquet, reminding his listeners that the Roosevelt tradition of large families was well suited to the needs of the toy industry. . . . The Chicago Toy Fair Association was formed. . . . The first Pacific Coast Toy Fair was held in San Francisco. . . . The "Toy Center," an association of toy manufacturers having sales rooms in the Fifth Avenue Building, New York, was formed, with James S. Lehren elected as President.

Several leading members of the toy trade died in 1925, including Henry F. Schwarz son of F. A. O. Schwarz, who had gone directly from school into his father's store and developed the business still further; after the latter's death; Leo Steinfeld, who had been actively identified with Steinfeld, Inc. since its formation 35 years before; Daniel Hegeman, manager of the New York office of Parker Brothers since the construction of the Flatiron Building in 1902; Andrew K. Ackerman, President of the Strobel-Wilken Co., who had started to work for that firm 54 years before, when it was located in Cincinnati; Benjamin F. Bain, President and founder of the Wolverine Supply & Mfg. Co. and Rudolf Meinecke, prominent toy man of Milwaukee.

The Flirting Eye Co. introduced in 1925

1926 Dolls that apparently drank milk were introduced. Each doll had a glass nursing bottle filled with a milk-like liquid which was seemingly consumed when the nipple was placed in the doll's mouth. Later the bottle automatically refilled itself.

The still novel medium of radio was used to give publicity to toys when PLAYTHINGS arranged an official welcome to the Toy Fair by the City of New York. Alderman Francis D. McGarey spoke over Station WEAF, telling of the growth of the toy industry.

Selchow & Righter Co. discontinued the jobbing of general toy lines to concentrate on the manufacture of games, and at the same time opened a showroom in the Fifth Avenue Building. . . . The Alexander Doll Co. was established during the early part of the year.

Among the well-known toy people who died in 1926 were George Wilken, for fifty years Vice-President of the Strobel & Wilken Co.; Julius Chein, toy manufacturer for thirty years; Benjamin Crandall, inventor, who died at the age of 73; Albert Brucker, doll maker since 1901; Edward L. Kraus, President of the National School Slate Co. and in the slate business for 42 years; Edward S. Coe, identified with iron toys from 1868 until a few years before his passing; I. H. "Ike" Davis, of Davis & Voetsch, who had spent his entire business life in the toy industry, and D. P. Clark, veteran maker of friction toys.

1927 Children's Day was established as the third Saturday in June. Endorsed by the Better Play for Children League, staunchly supported by the American Doll Manufacturers' Association and leading toy manufacturers and buyers, Children's Day provided a fine selling opportunity for stores in many parts of the country.

The Wolverine Supply & Mfg. Co. took over the toys formerly made by Walbert Mfg. Co. . . . Arranbee Doll Co. moved to 894-900 Broadway, New York. . . . Atlantic Toy Mfg. Co. moved to 141-5 Wooster St., New York. . . . M. L. Kahn moved to 43-45 Last 19th St., New York. . . . The Indiana Archery & Toy Corp., was established in Evansville, Ind.

E. I. Horsman, for many years known as the dean of the toy trade, died at the age of 83. He had a long and honorable career starting in the toy business in 1865. After the death of his only son, to whom he was devotedly attached, Mr. Horsman discontinued the sale of general toy lines and concentrated his entire energies on the manufacture and sale of dolls. . . . A few weeks after Mr. Horsman's death, Louis C. Wittenberg, salesman for the Horsman firm for 30 years, also passed away. Three days after this, Benjamin Goldenberg died. He was one of the country's pioneer doll and stuffed toy manufacturers. His firm, after making dolls for E. I. Horsman Co., for many years, was combined with the latter concern in 1919. Mr. Goldenberg had been elected President of the firm upon the death of Mr. Horsman. . . . Others who died in 1927 were Walter D. Marston, assistant buyer and toy buyer with John Wanamaker for more than 25 years; William Fuld, inventor and maker of the Ouija Board; John Bing, prominent in the toy industry in England, Australia and the United States; Emile C. Loewe, maker of doll outfits for 30 years, and Edward Eicke, President of the Geo. W. Travers Co., and associated with that concern for 37 years.

The Sidewalk Bicycle As It Appeared in 1928 When First Introduced on the Market

1928 Makers of mama voices inaugurated an extensive advertising and publicity campaign to make the public aware of the difference between a real mama voice and a squeaker. Many leading newspapers ran editorials on the subject. . . . A. C. Gilbert, an Olympic pole vaulting champion himself in 1908, went to Amsterdam with the American team, as a member of the Olympic Games Committee. Upon his return he again showed his interest in athletics by arranging a series of radio sport talks to spread the news of Gilbert toys, featuring Babe Ruth, Chick Meehan, Grantland Rice, Lawson Robertson, T. A. D. Jones, Bill Roper and others.

Dave Carter, toy buyer for J. L. Brandeis & Sons, of Omaha, celebrated his twentieth year with that store. . . . James S. Croll became buyer of toys, books and games for J. J. Newberry Co. . . . Miss L. Sullivan was the new toy buyer for Trask, Prescott & Richardson of Erie, Pa. Mortimer Schwarz, buyer of toys, china etc., for the Golden Rule, of St. Paul, retired after 25 years with that store. . . . The Hahn Department Stores, Inc., was formed to operate stores in many important cities. . . . The M. O'Neil Co., of Akron, completed a new store with a garage for their customers and a railroad running right through the store. P. W. Flanagan was the toy buyer then as now.

W. O. Coleman was President of the Toy Manufacturers of the U. S. A. . . . The Buffalo Toy & Tool Works opened a showroom in the Fifth Avenue Building. The factory of Halsam Products Co., was completely destroyed in a spectacular fire. Within a few days work was started on a new, modern daylight factory, at the same location but with more ground space. . . . The Hedstrom-Union Co., took over the Children's Vehicle Corp., line. . . . Charles W. Butterworth took over the managership of the PLAYTHINGS Chicago office.

Death came in 1928 to J. H. Wittenborg, President of the Wittenborg Toy Co., Cincinnati wholesalers; Kenneth M. Hayden, veteran Pacific Coast salesman, Alfred Fantl, long a leader in New York resident buying circles, Miss Katherine Lugrin, toy buyer for the Jordan, Marsh Co., for 17 years and before that associated with the Schwarz Toy Store in Boston; Clarence A. Kohl, for many years with the National Tinsel Co.; I. A. Rommer, Secretary and Treasurer of the Ideal Novelty & Toy Co., since 1912, and inventor of many innovations in dolls and also in other industries, Edgar H. Morgan, President of the Arcade Mfg. Co., who had joined that concern 64 years before, and Harry J. Phillips, well-known in the game field for many years.

The Kant Krack Dolls Were the Delight of the Buyers Back in 1914

Wm. George Hegeman, recently retired toy buyer for R. H. Macy & Co., was given a testimonial dinner by more than a hundred men in the toy industry, in appreciation of thirty years of leadership in the marketing of toys. All branches of the toy trade were represented, as well as Macy officials. . . . After twelve years with the Wm. Hengerer Co., of Buffalo, Chas. W. Benzow resigned from that store to become buyer of toys and other departments for the Adam, Meldrum & Anderson Co., of the same city. . . . The Long-Lewis Hardware Co., wholesale distributors in Bessemer, Ala., for 42 years, opened a new store in Birmingham, H. A. Wilson acting as general manager at Bessemer and toy buyer for both branches. . . . Marshall Field & Co., opened a new department store in Evanston, Ill. . . . The H. C. Capwell Co., and Taft & Pennoyer of Oakland, Calif., merged and opened a new store as the H. C. Capwell Co. A new firm, Capwell, Sullivan & Furth, opened in the former H. C. Capwell building. . . J. G. Hasler became toy buyer for the Peoples' Store of Roseland, in Chicago.

"The Right Toy for the Right Age," by Mirza Mann Lauder, appeared in PLAYTHINGS, and reprints were used by leading stores throughout the country for distribution to customers and sales people. Due to insistent demand, this article was later revised and reprinted. . . . Mirza Mann Lauder conducted highly successful toy shows in the stores of The J. L. Hudson Co., Detroit, Gimbel Bros., Philadelphia, the Golden Rule, St. Paul, and Donaldson's, Minneapolis. . . . The American Toy Buyers' Association was formed, with J. W. Boston elected the first President . . . The Porter Chemical Co., purchased the business of the Statler Toy Corp. . . . STAKING BLOCK

M2670. K. & D. Each $2.00

The slots milled in the edge of this block are very convenient for a variety of work for which a hole could not be used; for example, the edges of the slot form a rigid support for the joint of a broach. The most refractory run may be started by a quick blow of the hammer.

The V slot is useful in removing pinions from wheels of either clocks or watches without disturbing the bushing of the wheel.

747T2. Each $4.50

THE MOE DIAMOND WEIGHT GAUGE

Knowing that the trade has always been in want of a device that would tell them the weight of a diamond when it is in the setting, I can truthfully say that my system is the only device yet discovered that will accomplish what has been heretofore impossible. Estimating the weight of a diamond by placing it under a hole in a piece of metal or card which is supposed to give the weight, are all worthless for the reason that the depth is not considered, nor the edges or girdle, which is very important. The Moe gauge measures both the diameter and depth and the edges are allowed for with accuracy on all diamonds from a round to a cushion shape, ranging in weight from ¼ to 7½ carats.

LOVELACE PATTERN

Like the presentation of a social leader, the rare distinction that sets her apart from all other debutantes—tells you at once that you are in the presence of a future social leader. And so with LOVELACE—it is destined to be the greatest pattern of the generation. One glance tells you that it is lovelier than any other plate. For only the skill of 1847 Rogers Bros. craftsmen made it possible. Orange blossoms, with the daintiness of wedding ring design—delicate open-work as lacy as a bridal veil. It will start a new trend in silver styles.

HER MAJESTY PATTERN

The gleaming courtly beauty of Her Majesty suggests the elegance of hand-wrought silver of the Georgian period. It is dignified and stately as Chippendale Furniture but as romantic as the newest jewel or gown.

1847 ROGERS BROS.

For 90 Years America's Finest Silverplate

LOVELACE PATTERN

Like the presentation of a social leader, the rare distinction that sets her apart from all other debutantes—tells you at once that you are in the presence of a future social leader. And so with LOVELACE—it is destined to be the greatest pattern of the generation. One glance tells you that it is lovelier than any other plate. For only the skill of 1847 Rogers Bros. craftsmen made it possible. Orange blossoms, with the daintiness of wedding ring design—delicate open-work as lacy as a bridal veil. It will start a new trend in silver styles.

HER MAJESTY PATTERN

The gleaming courtly beauty of Her Majesty suggests the elegance of hand-wrought silver of the Georgian period. It is dignified and stately as Chippendale Furniture but as romantic as the newest jewel or gown.
